

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

We're on the web
www.fbcbaptistx.com

YouTube

LIVE

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

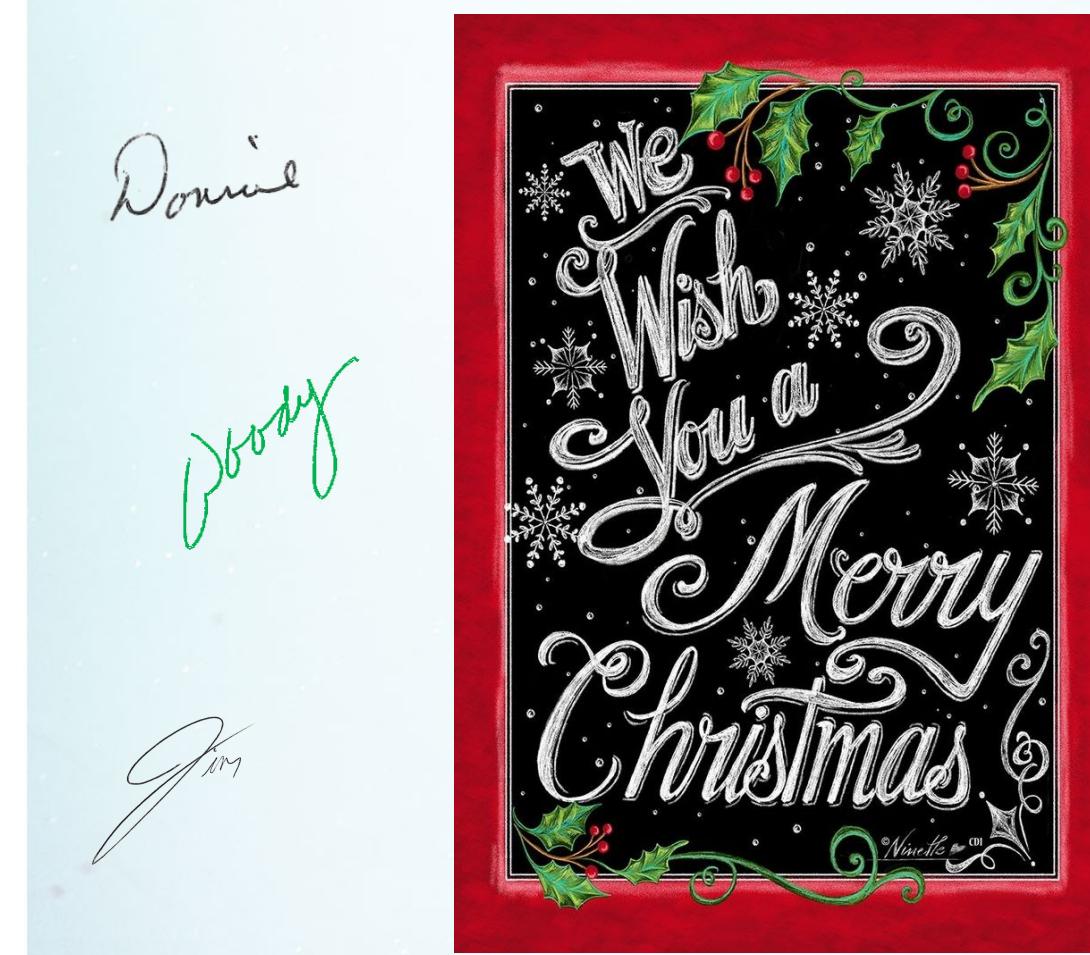

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

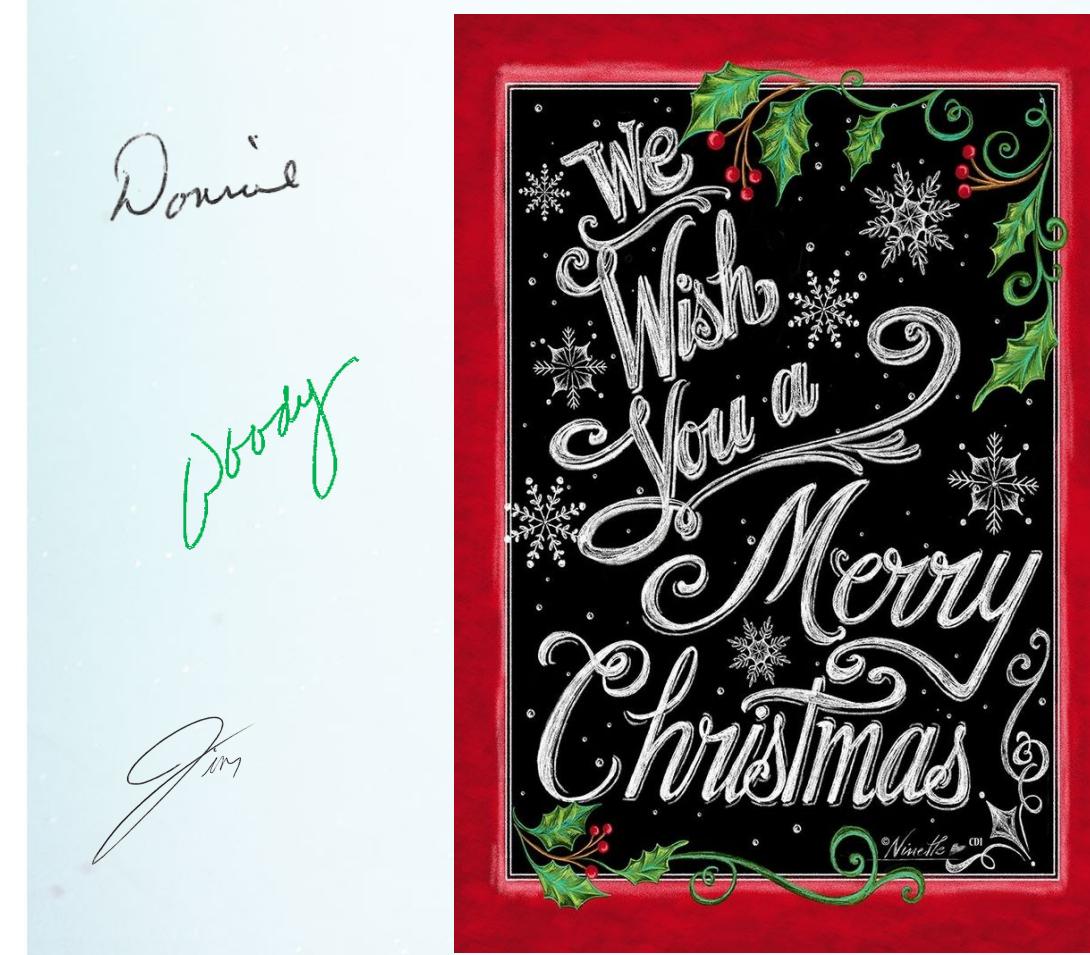

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

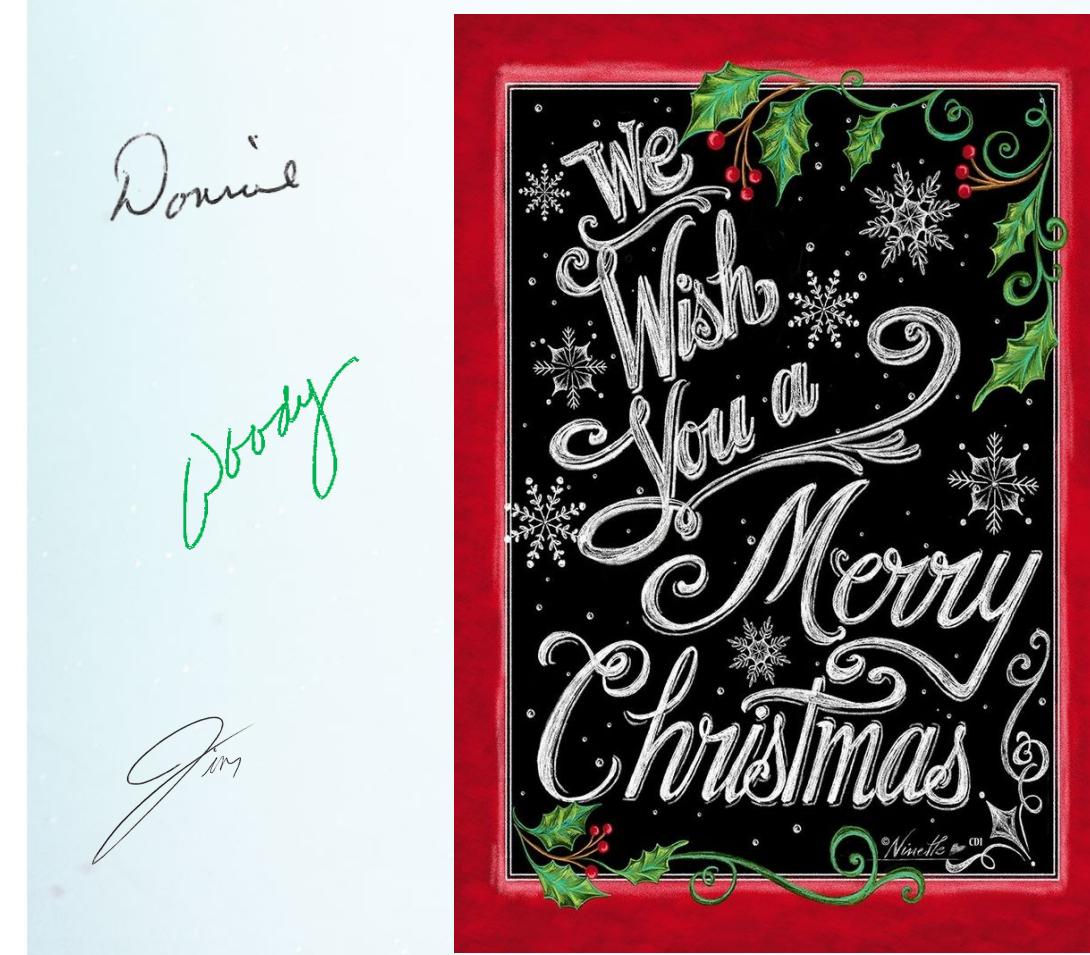

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left, and a circular graphic on the right containing a starburst pattern with the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbjaspertx.com". Below the sketch is the church's address and phone number: "First Baptist, Jasper 314 N. Main St. Jasper, TX 75951 (409)384-2527".

LIVE

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

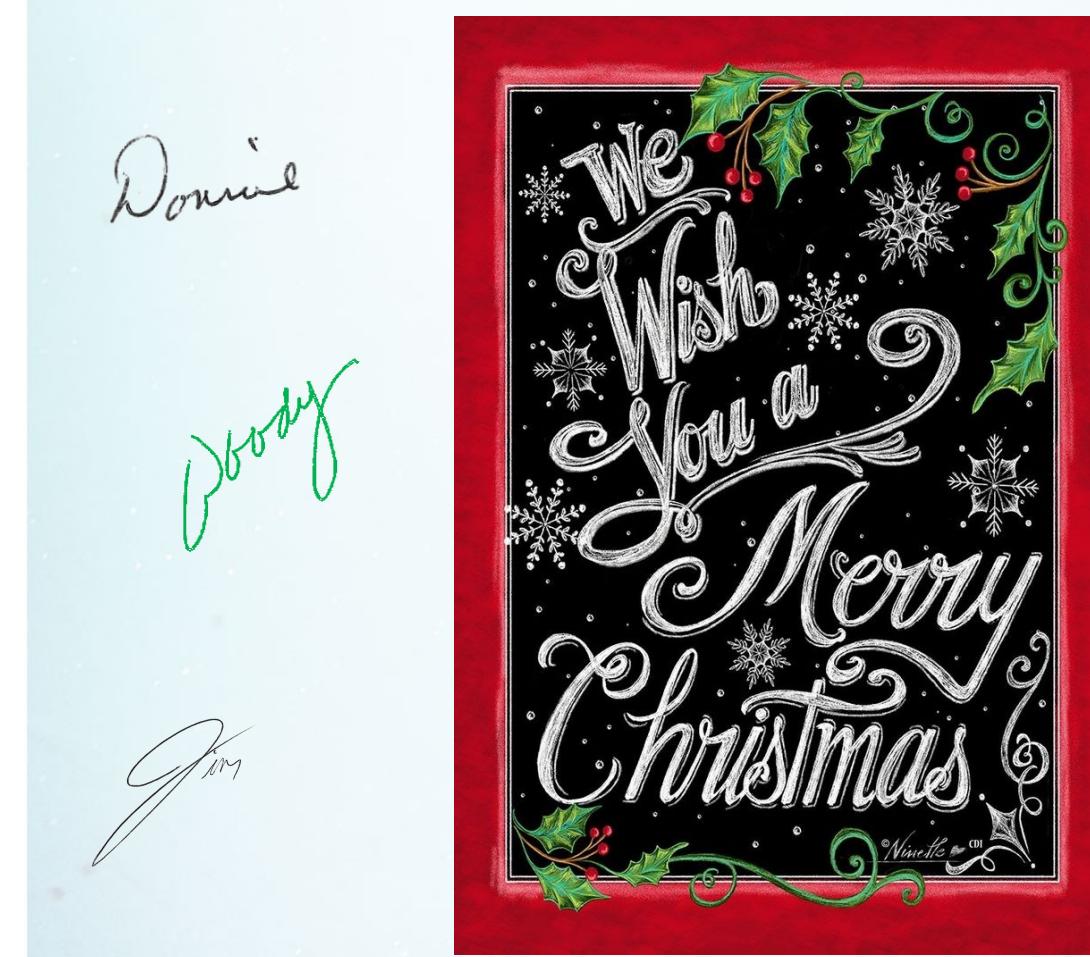

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

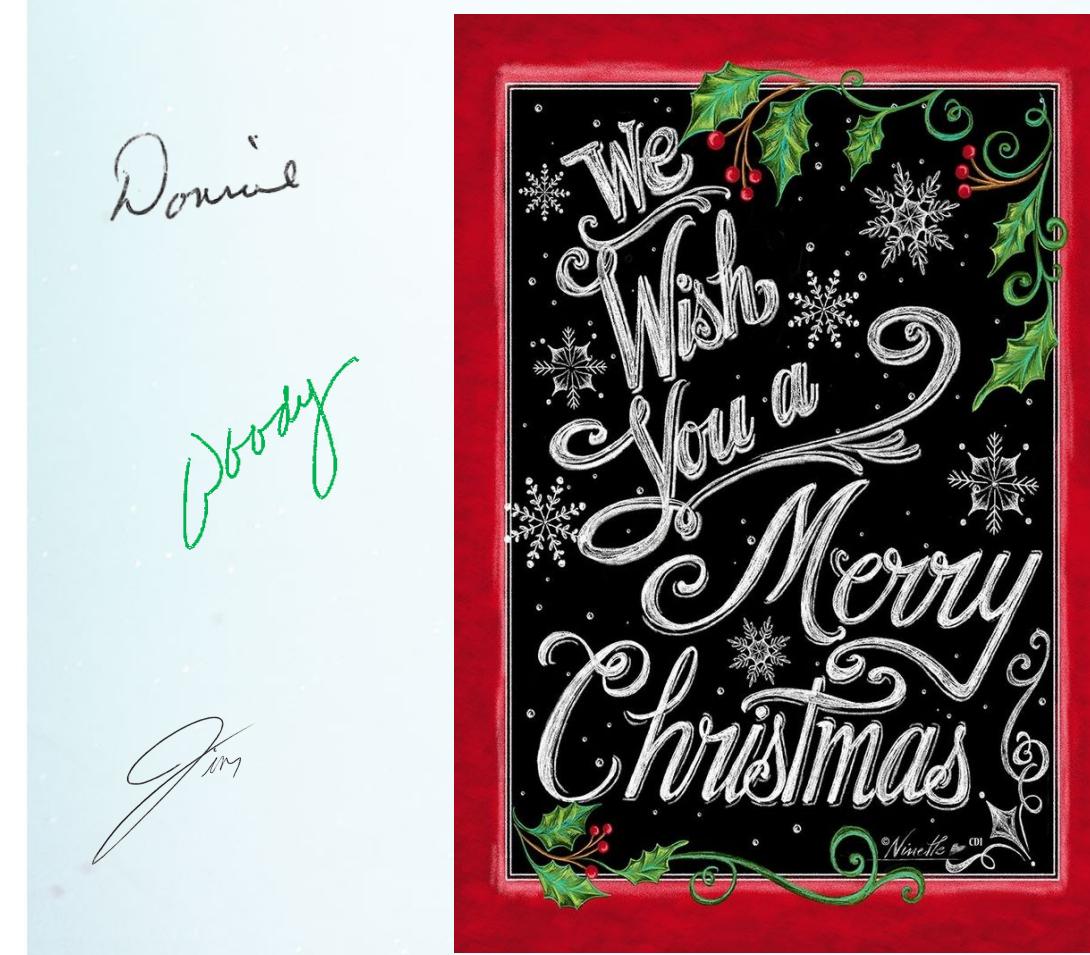

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

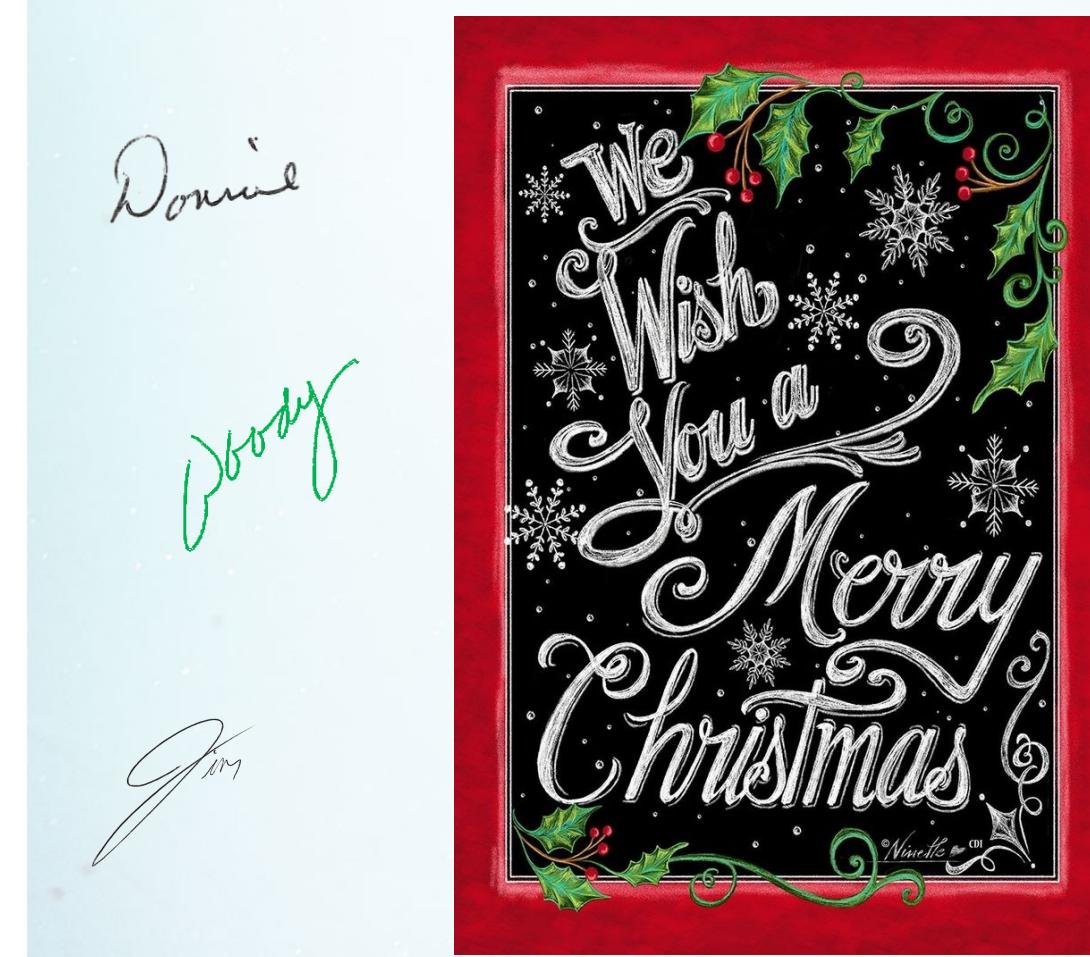

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

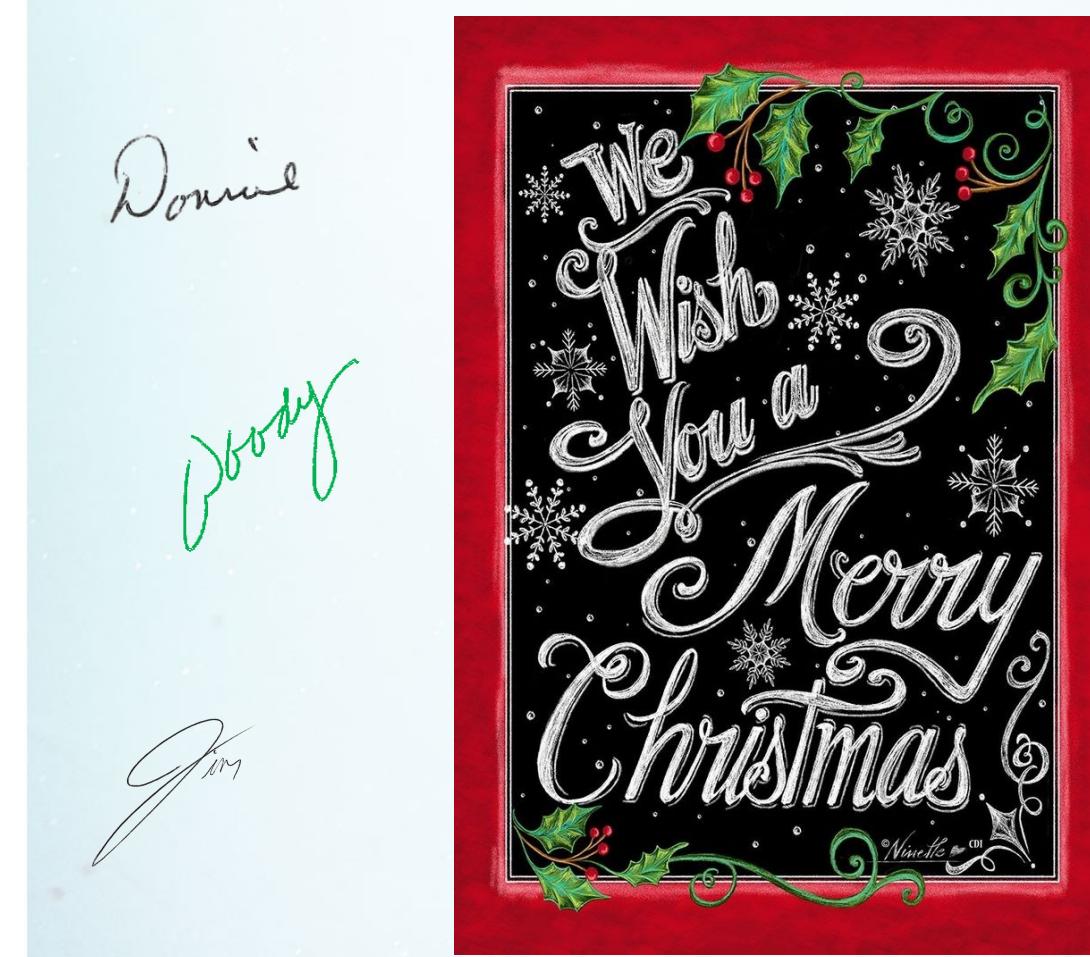

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

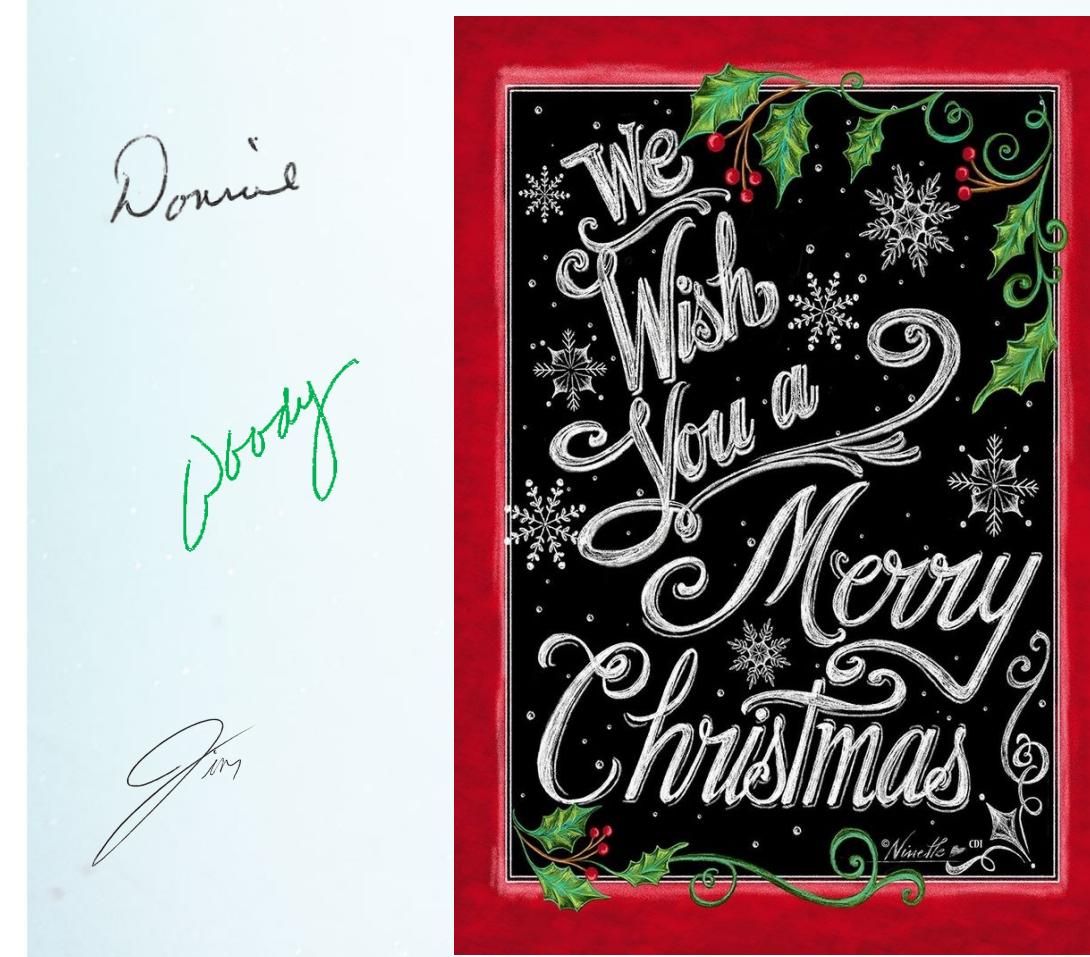

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

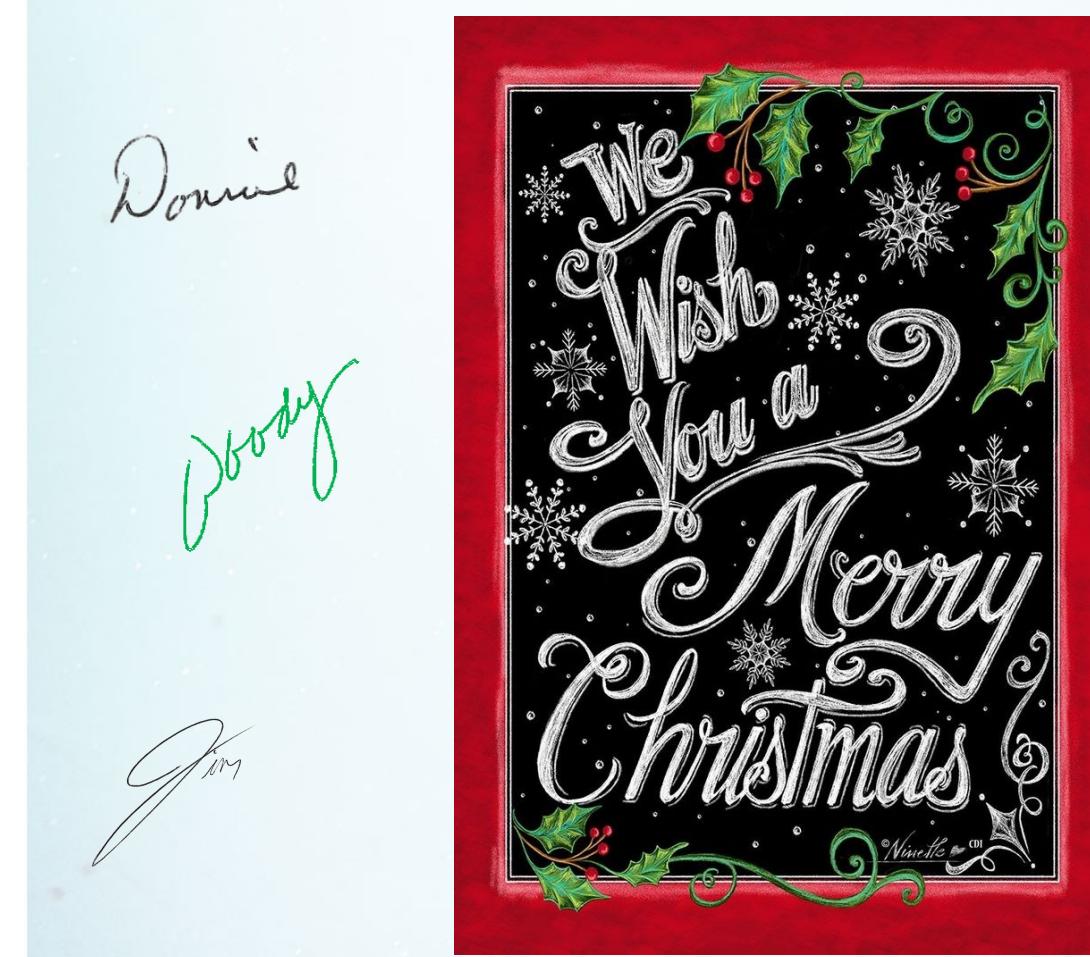

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

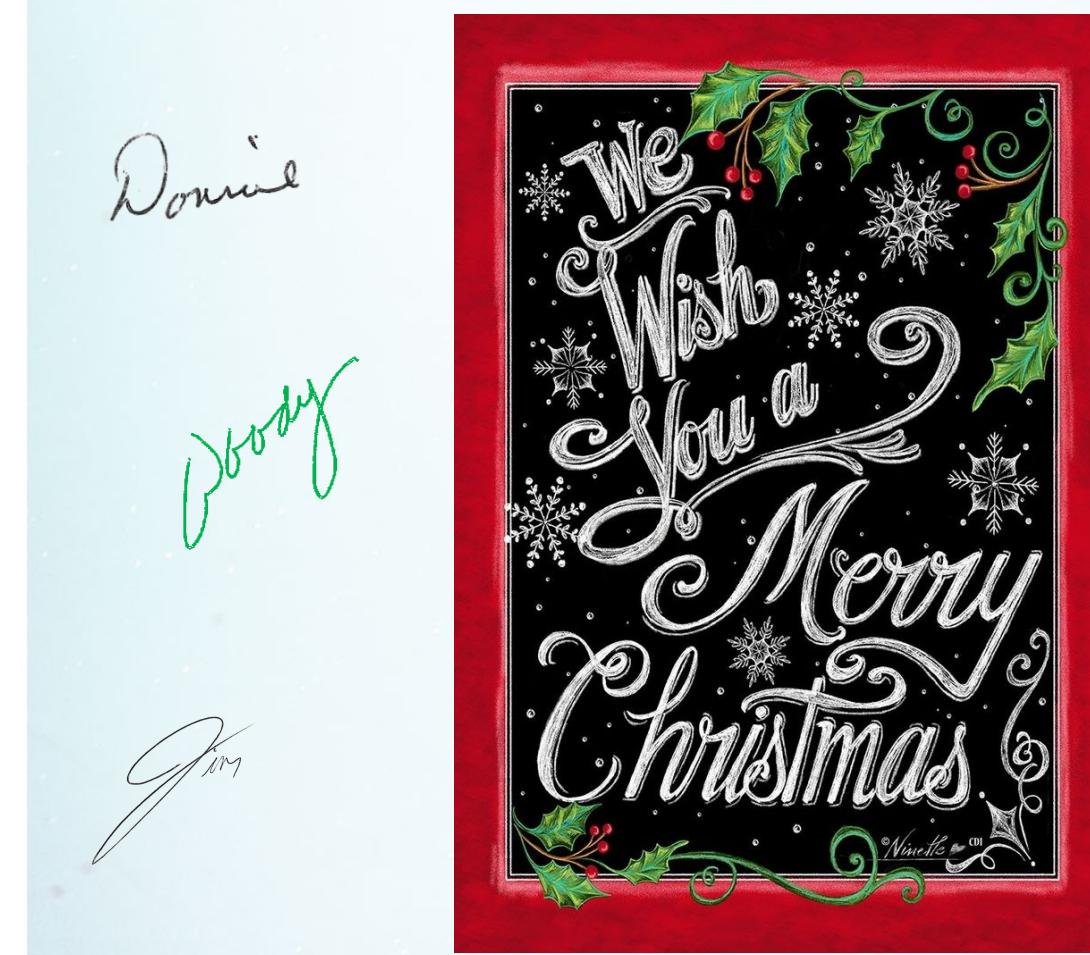

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

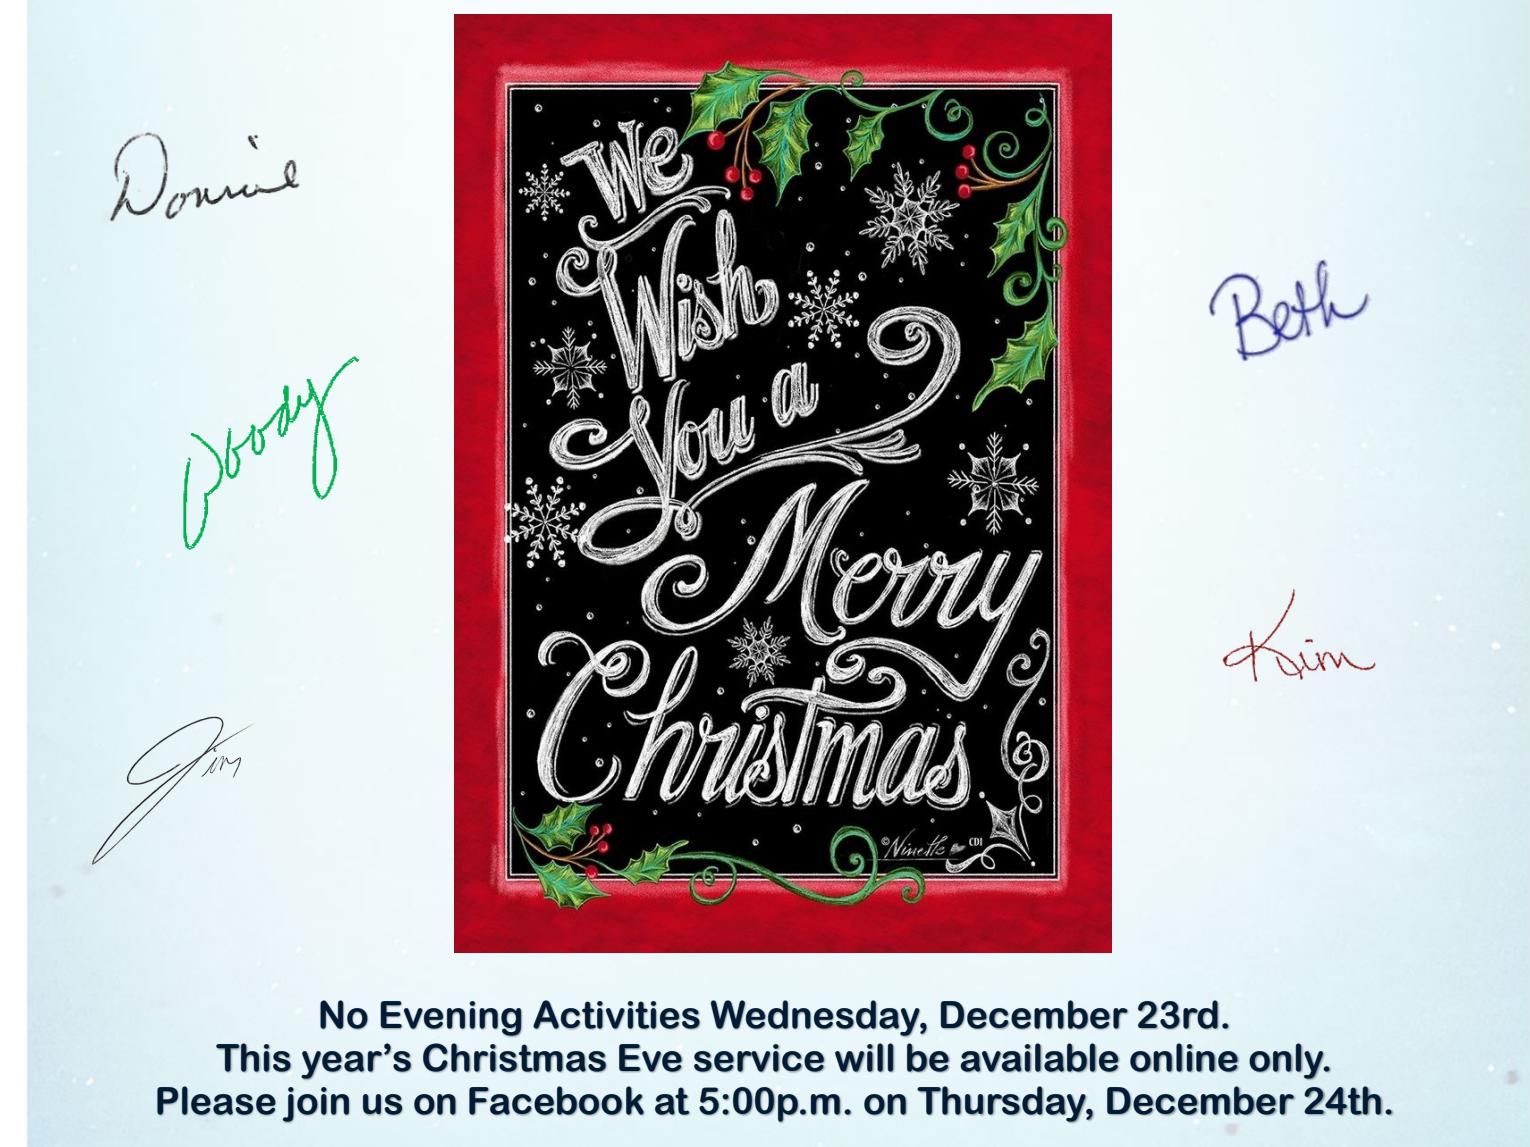

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left, and a circular graphic on the right containing a starburst pattern. Below the sketch, the text reads: "First Baptist, Jasper", "314 N. Main St.", "Jasper, TX 75951", "(409)384-2527", and "fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com". To the right of the logo, there are social media icons for YouTube, Facebook, and a "LIVE" video camera, along with the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbcjaspertx.com".

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

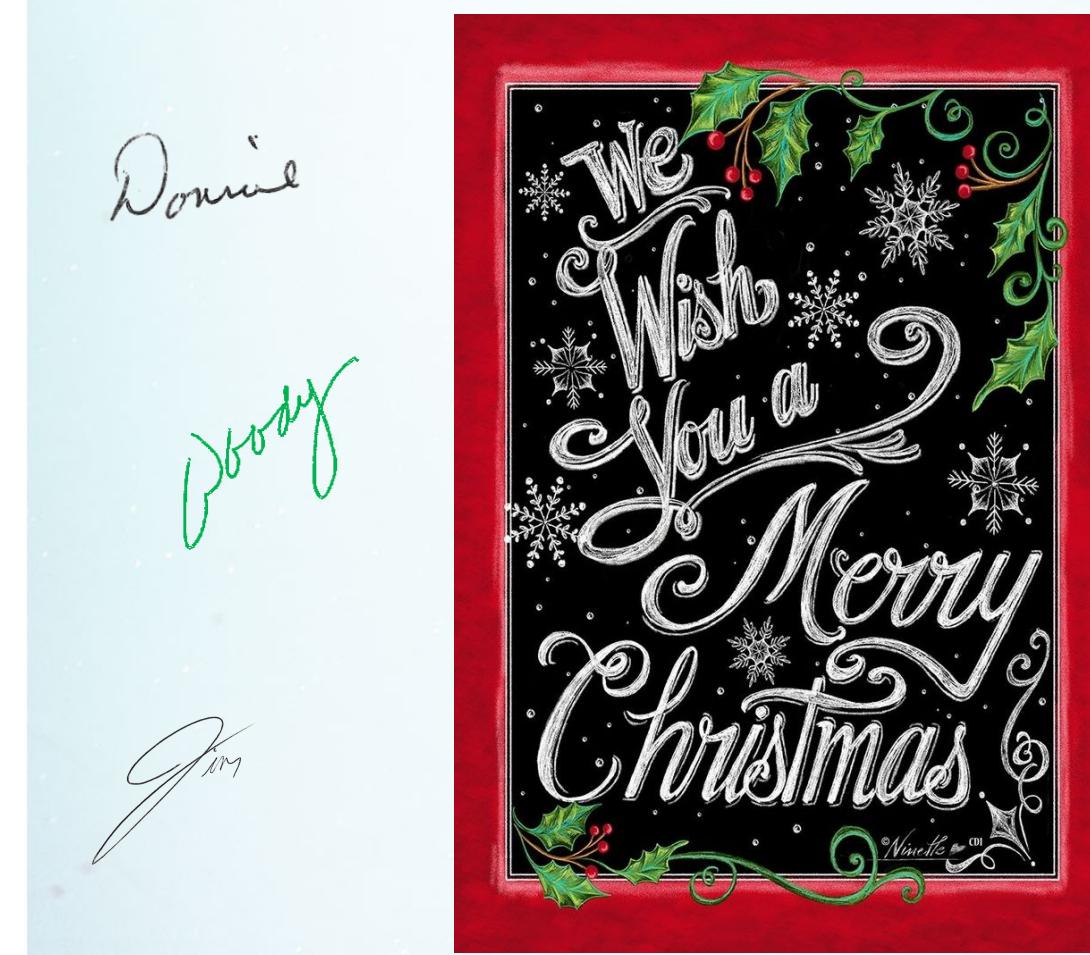

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

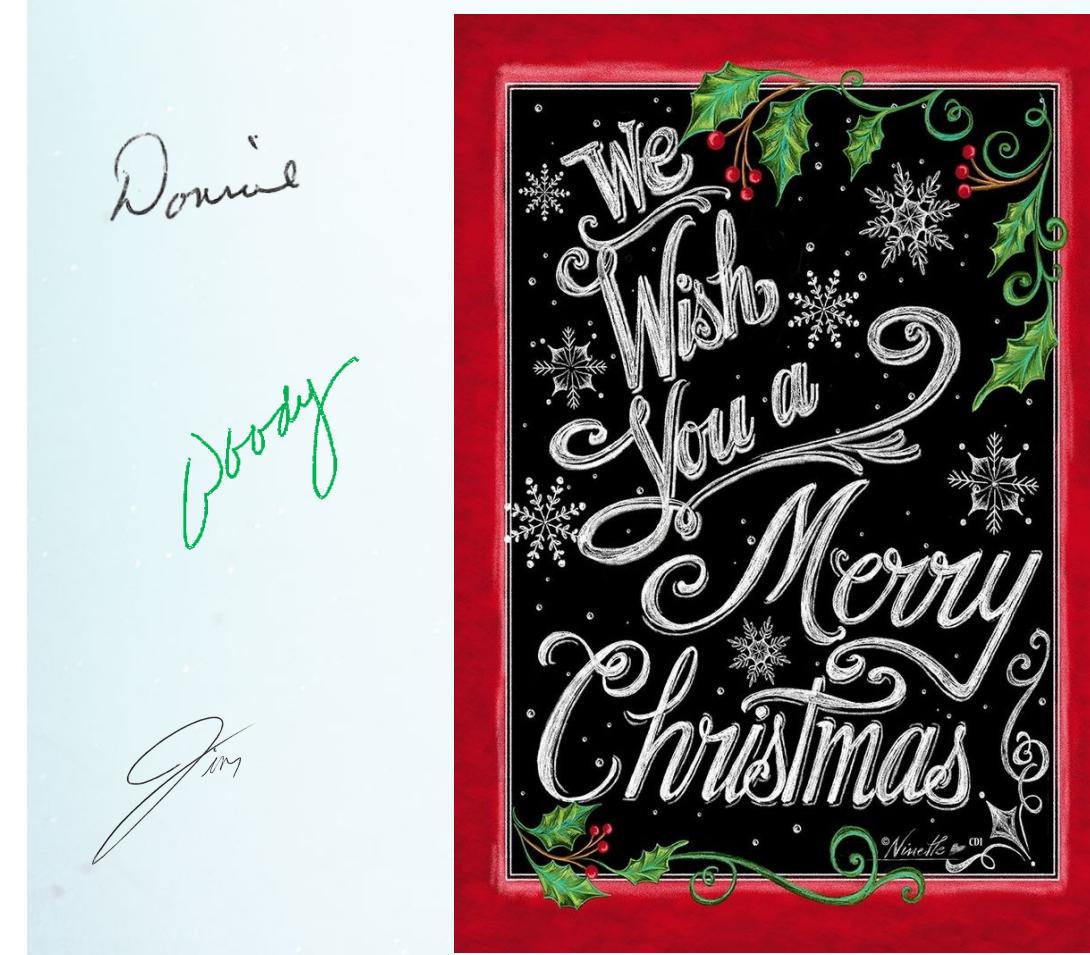

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

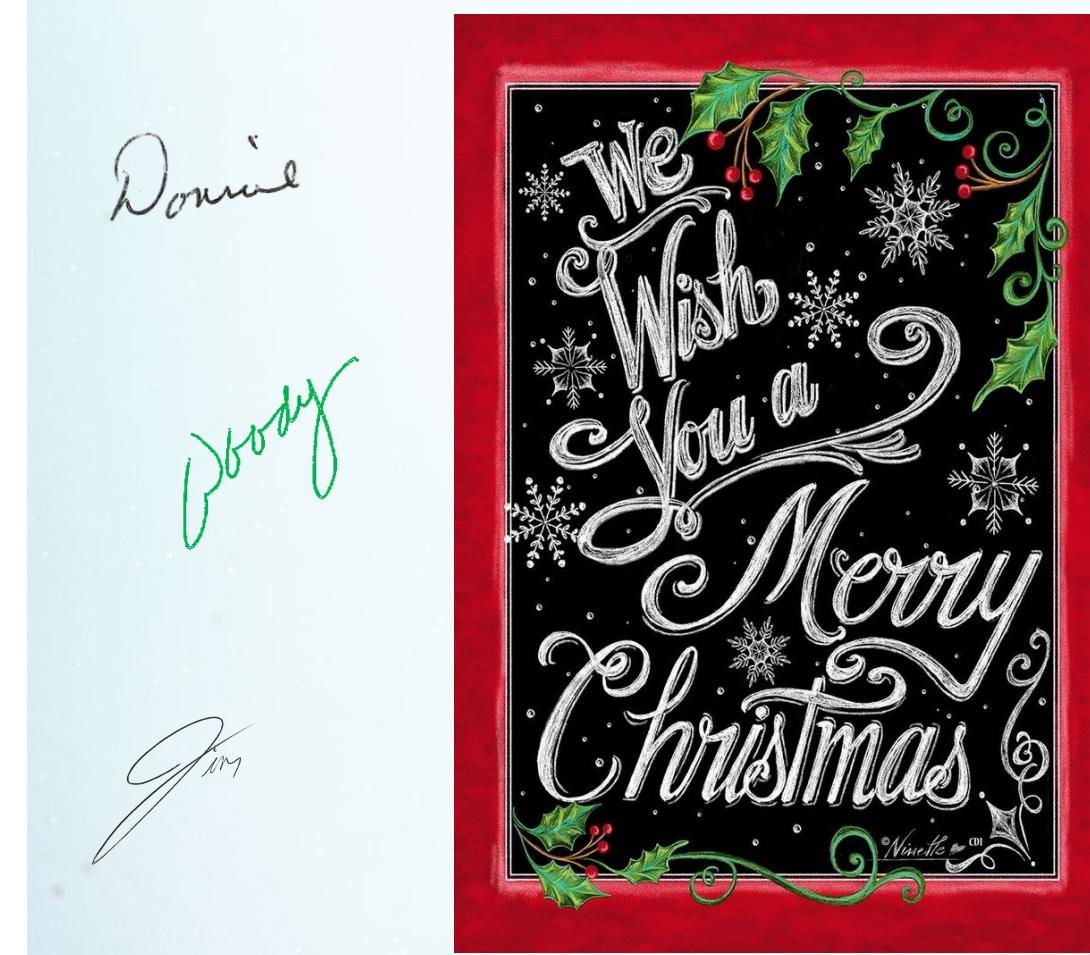

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

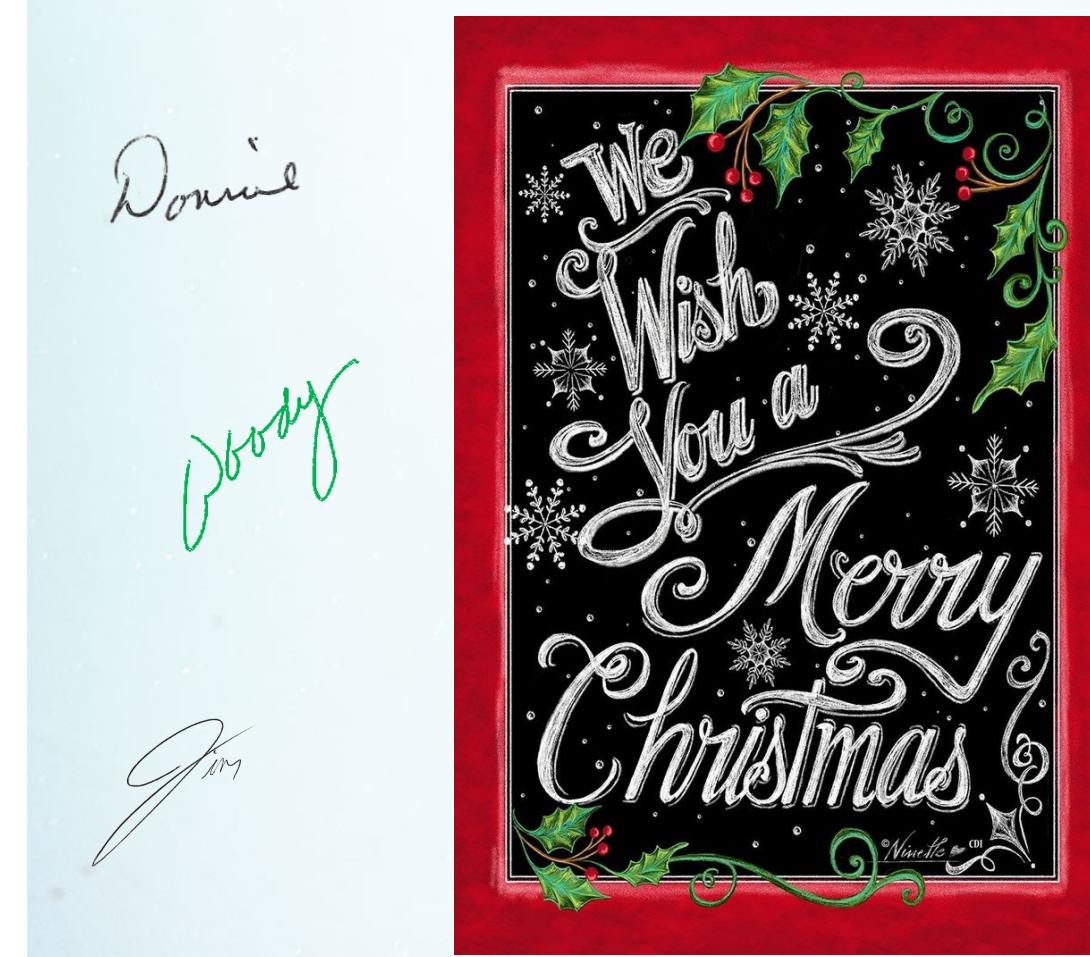

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

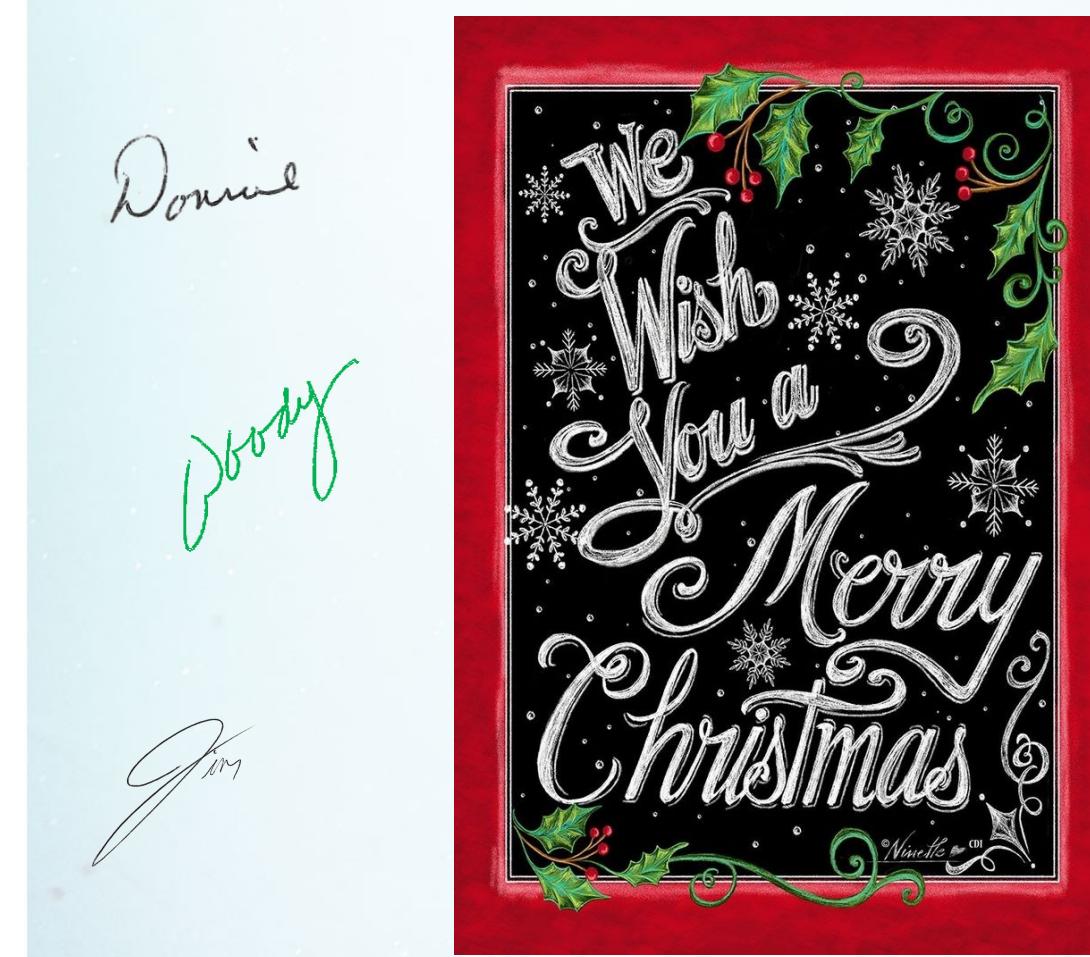

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

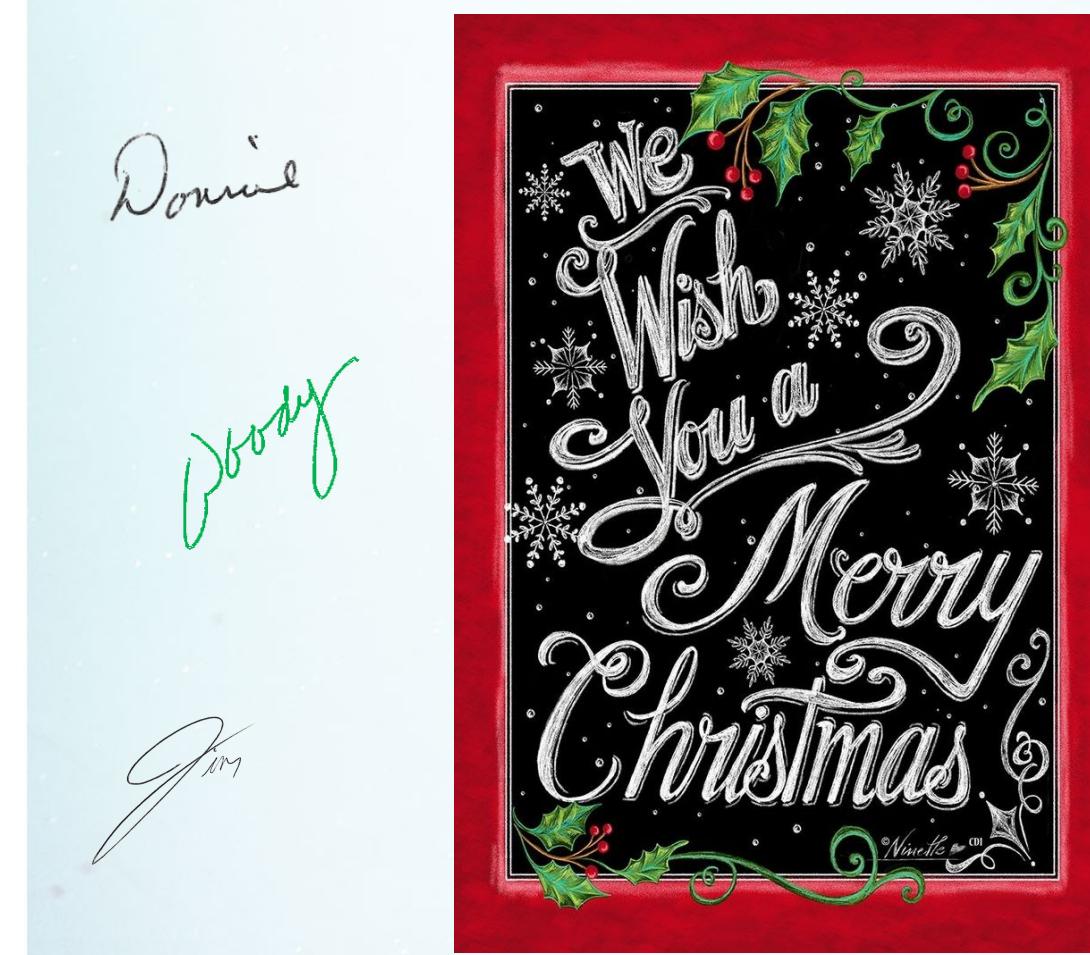

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

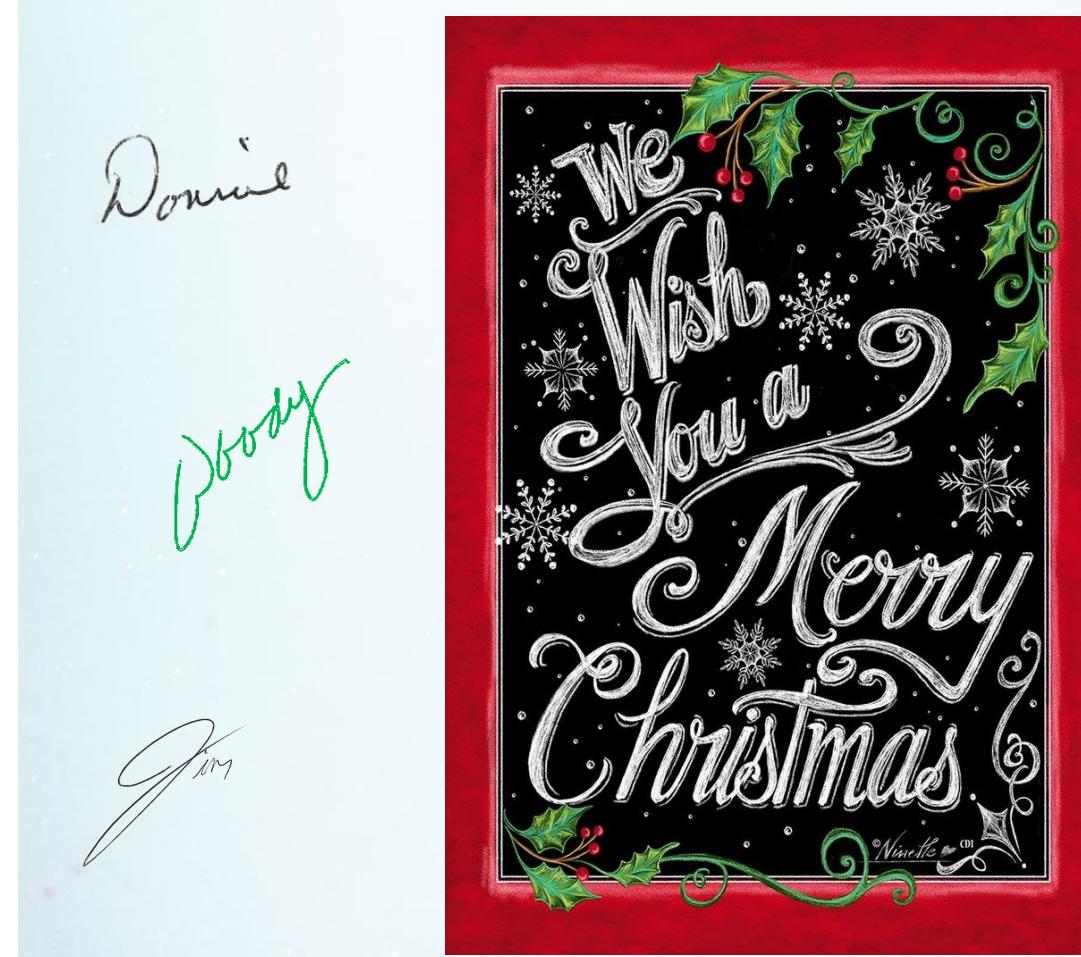

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

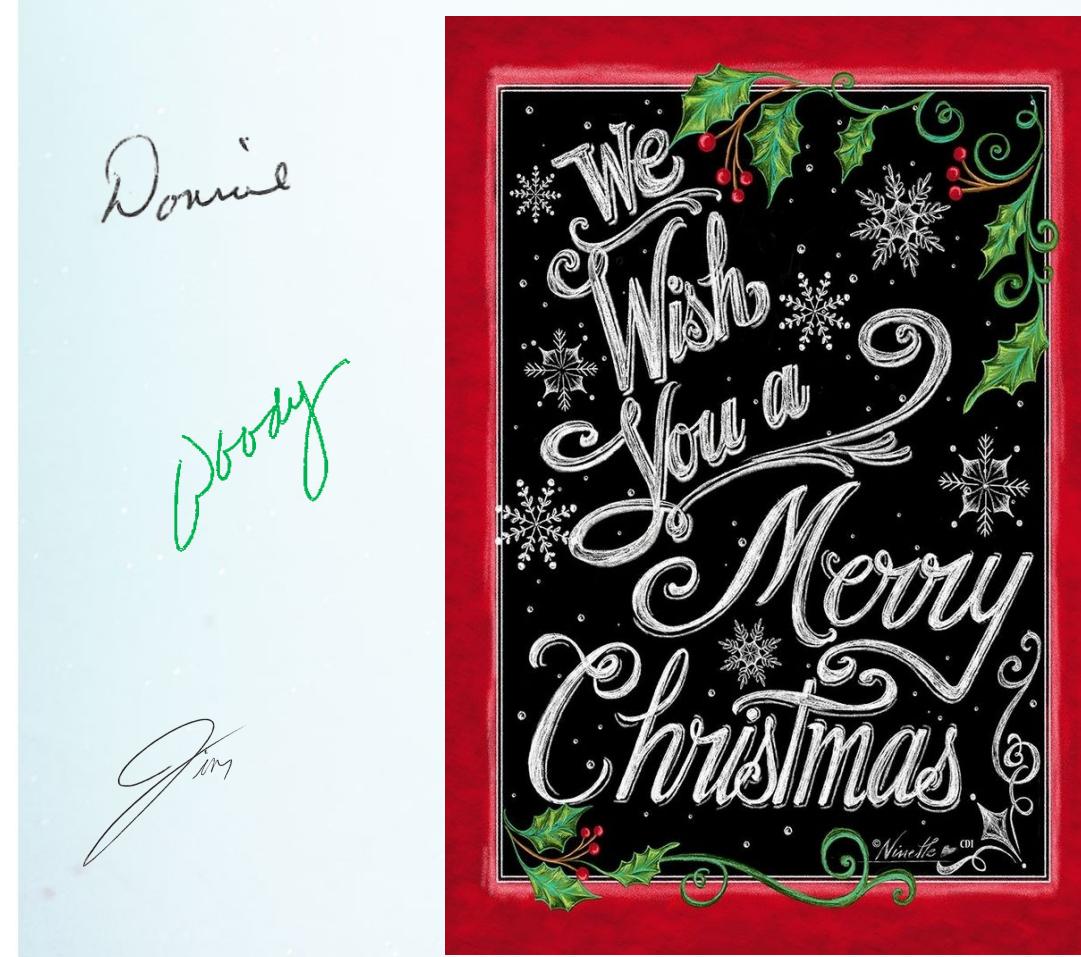

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left, and a circular graphic on the right containing a starburst pattern with the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbjaspertx.com". Below the sketch is the church's address and phone number: "First Baptist, Jasper 314 N. Main St. Jasper, TX 75951 (409)384-2527".

LIVE

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

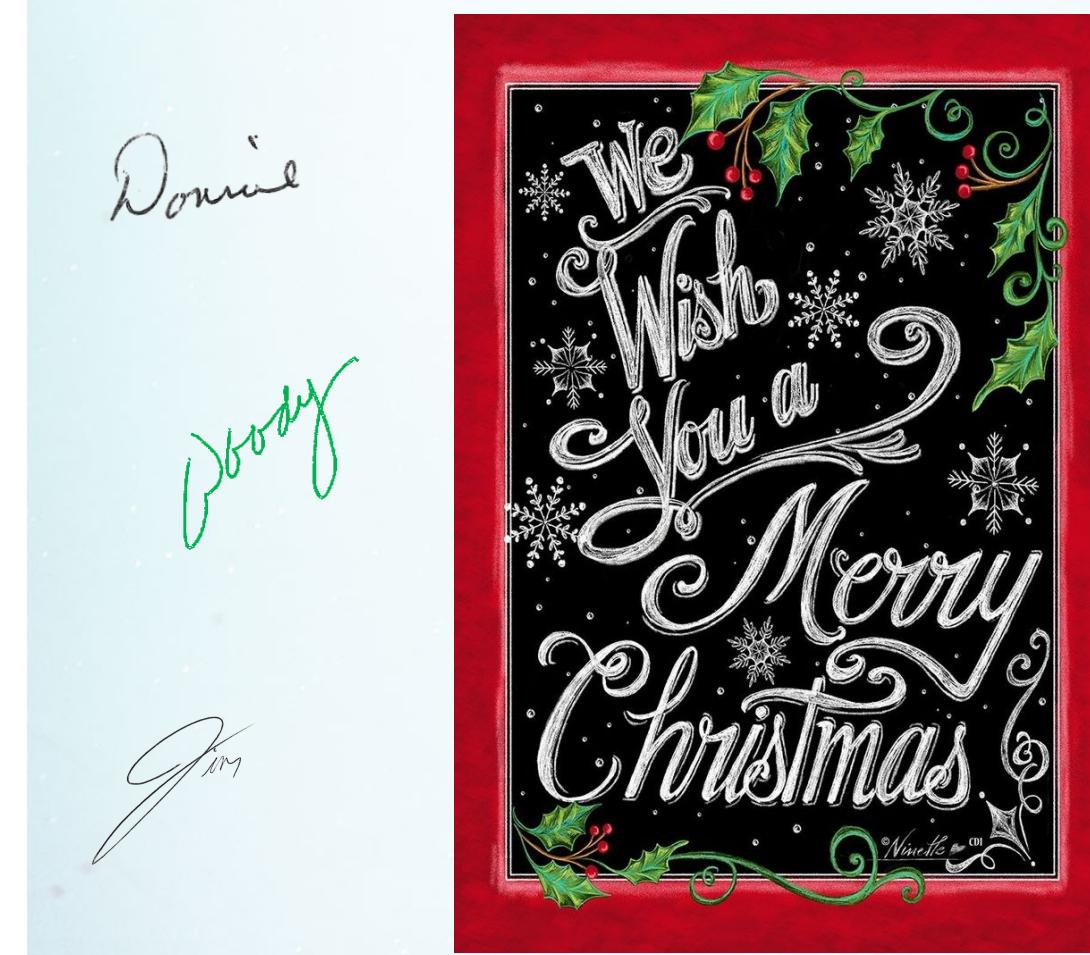

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

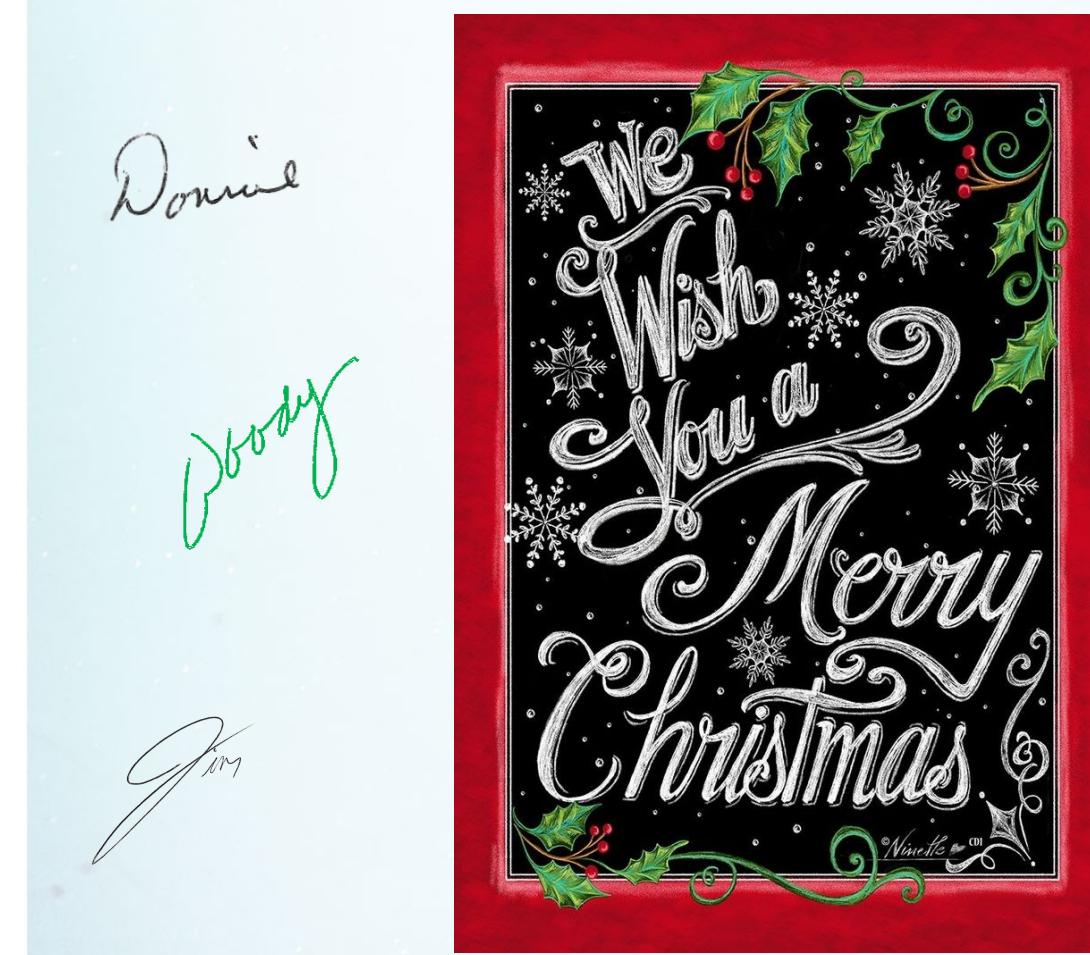

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

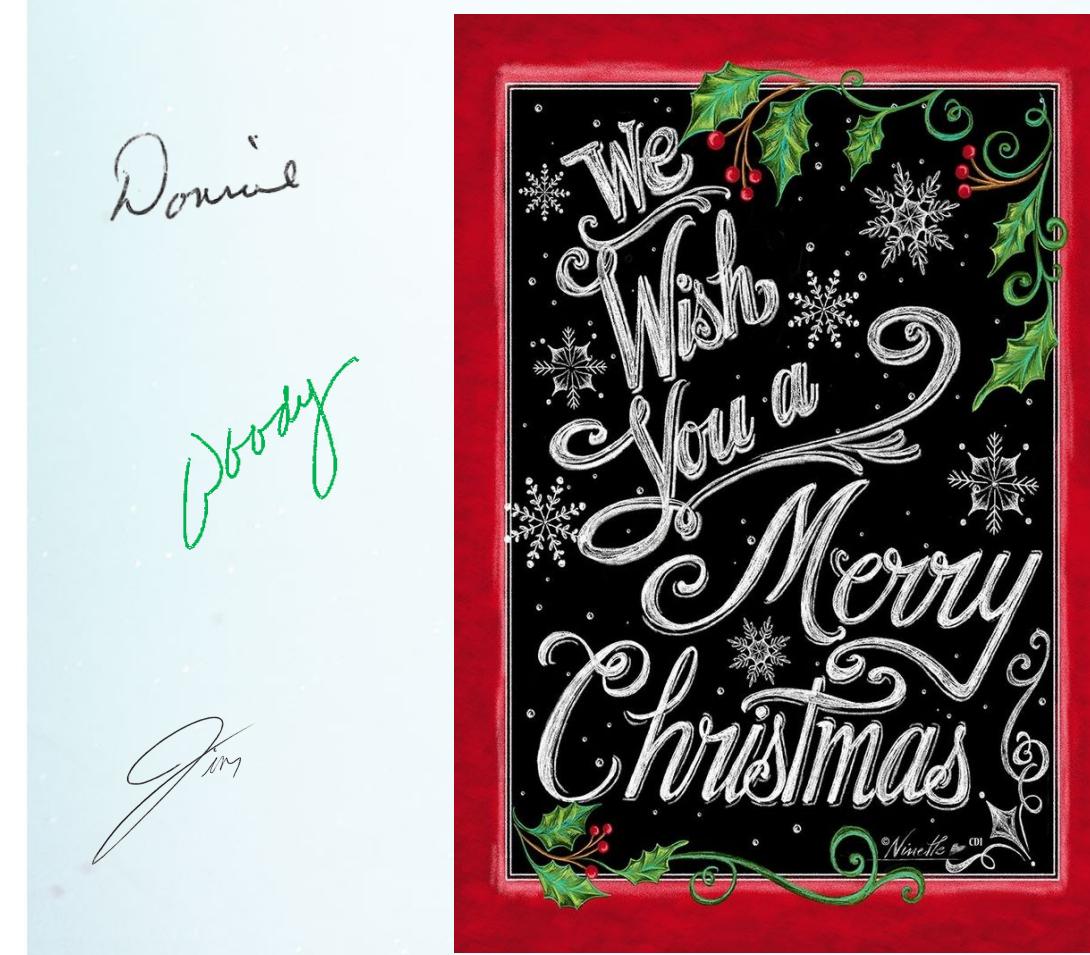

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

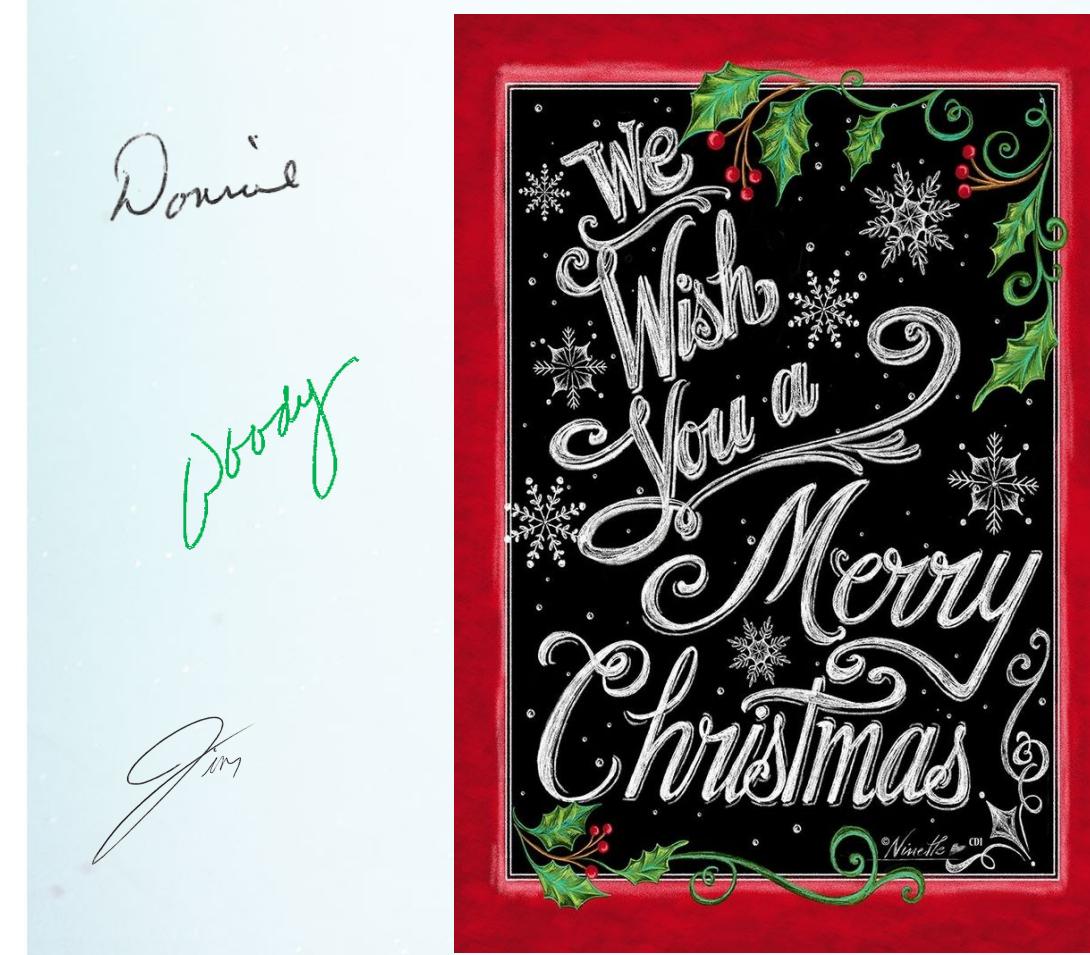

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

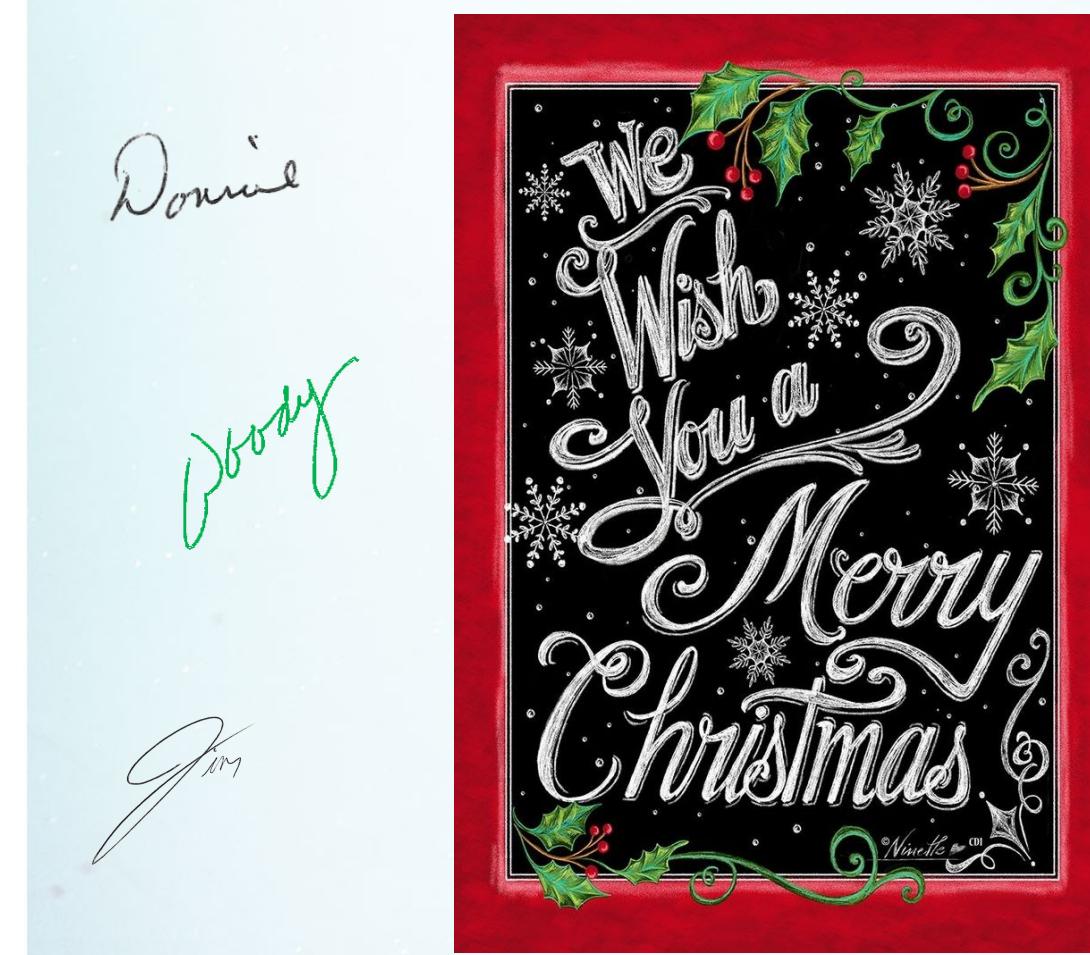

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

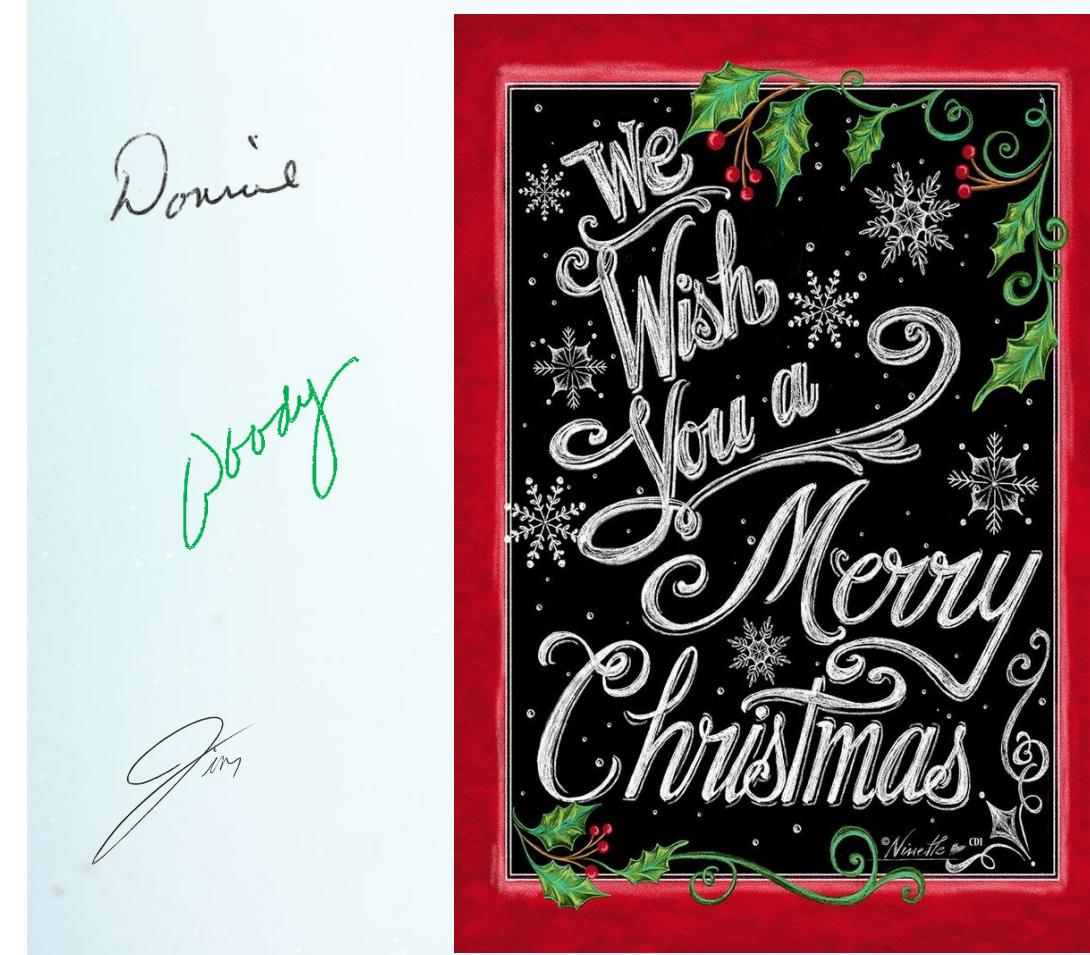

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

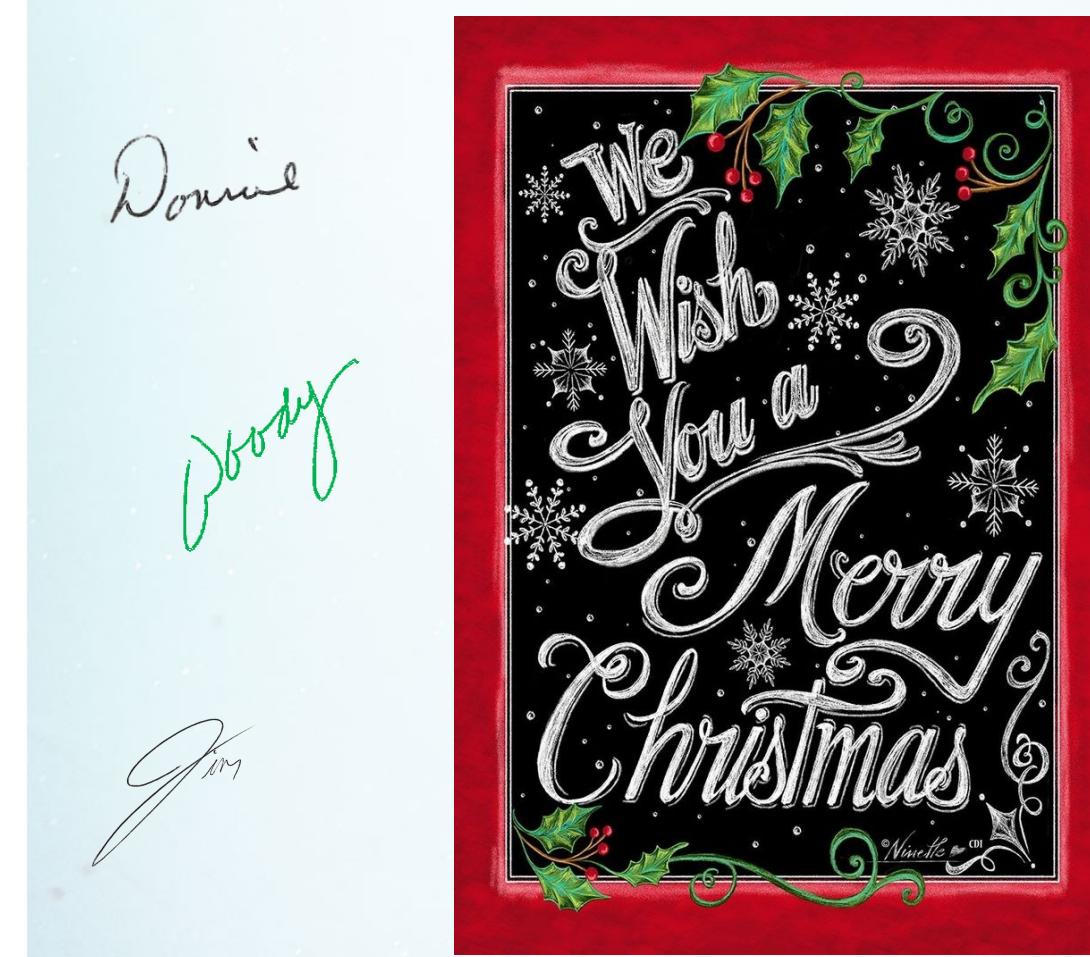

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

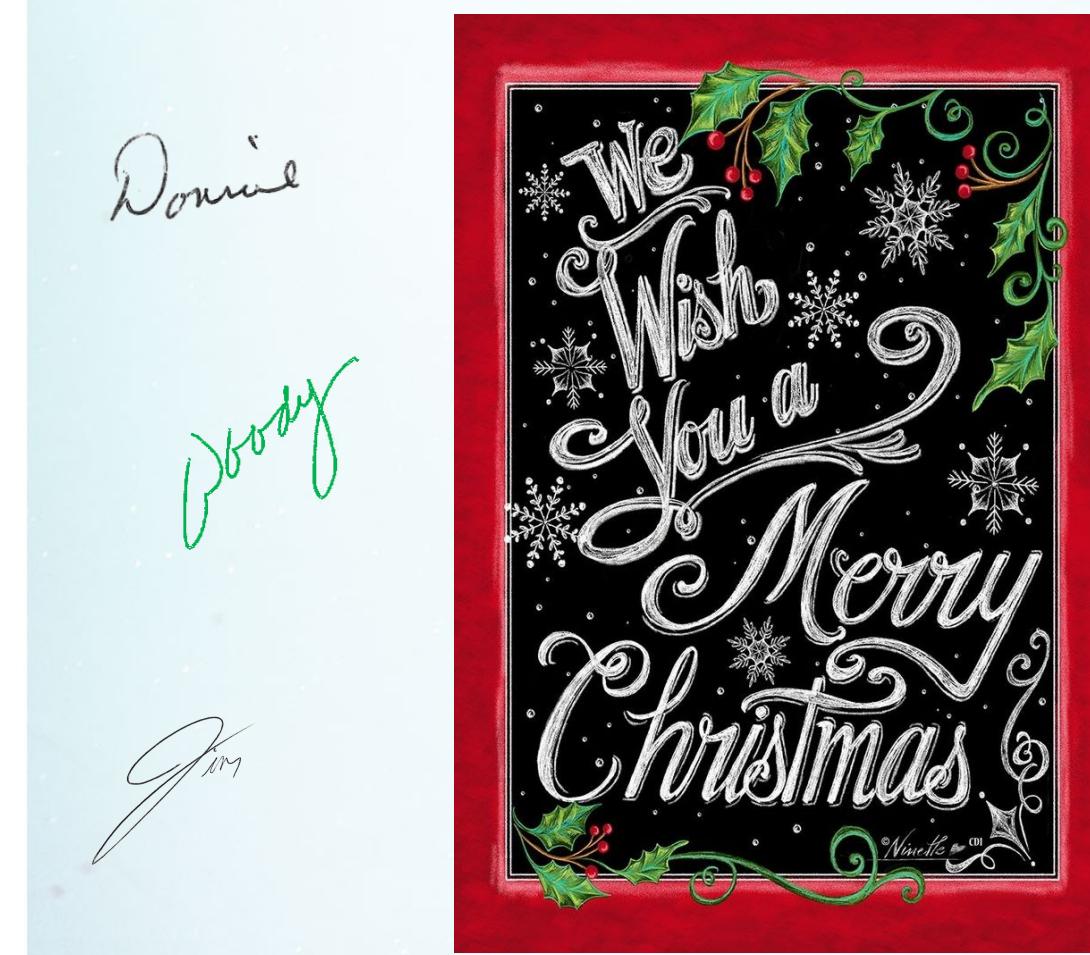

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

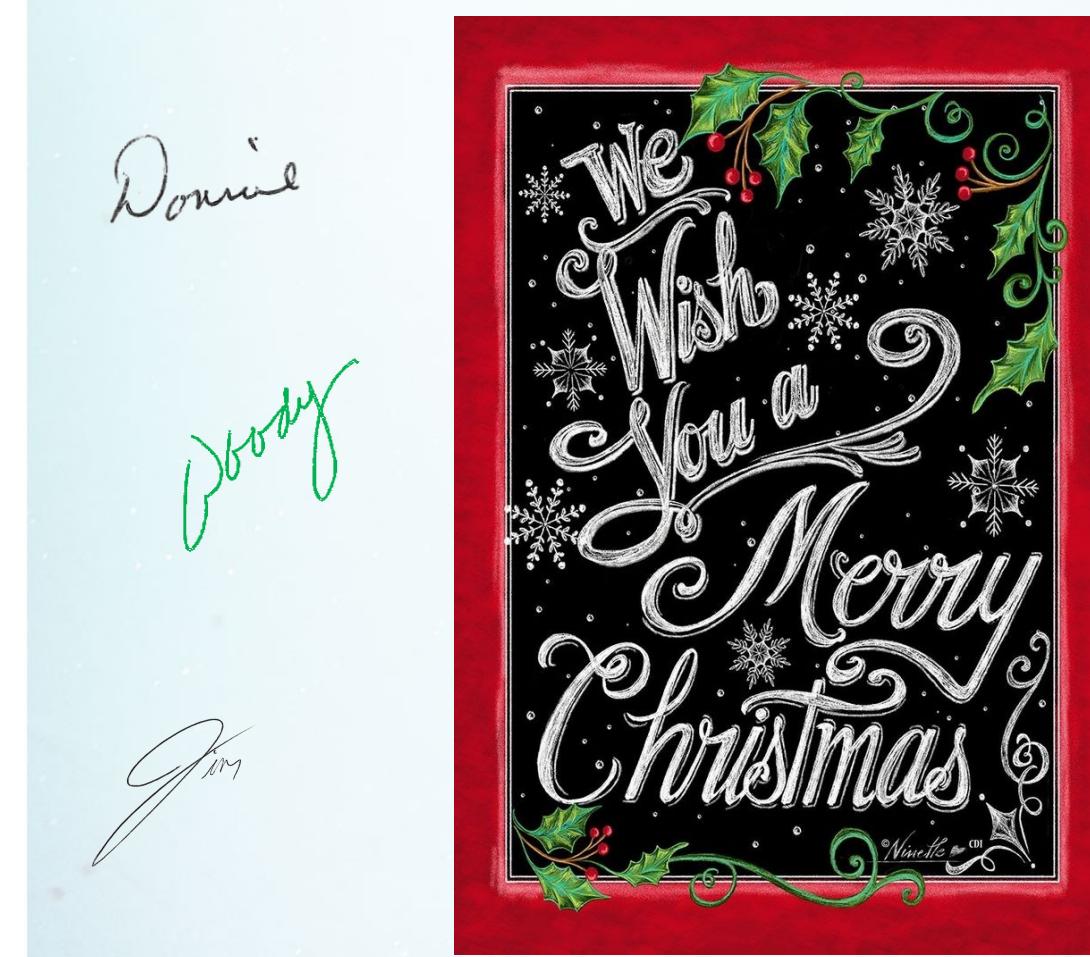

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless
The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

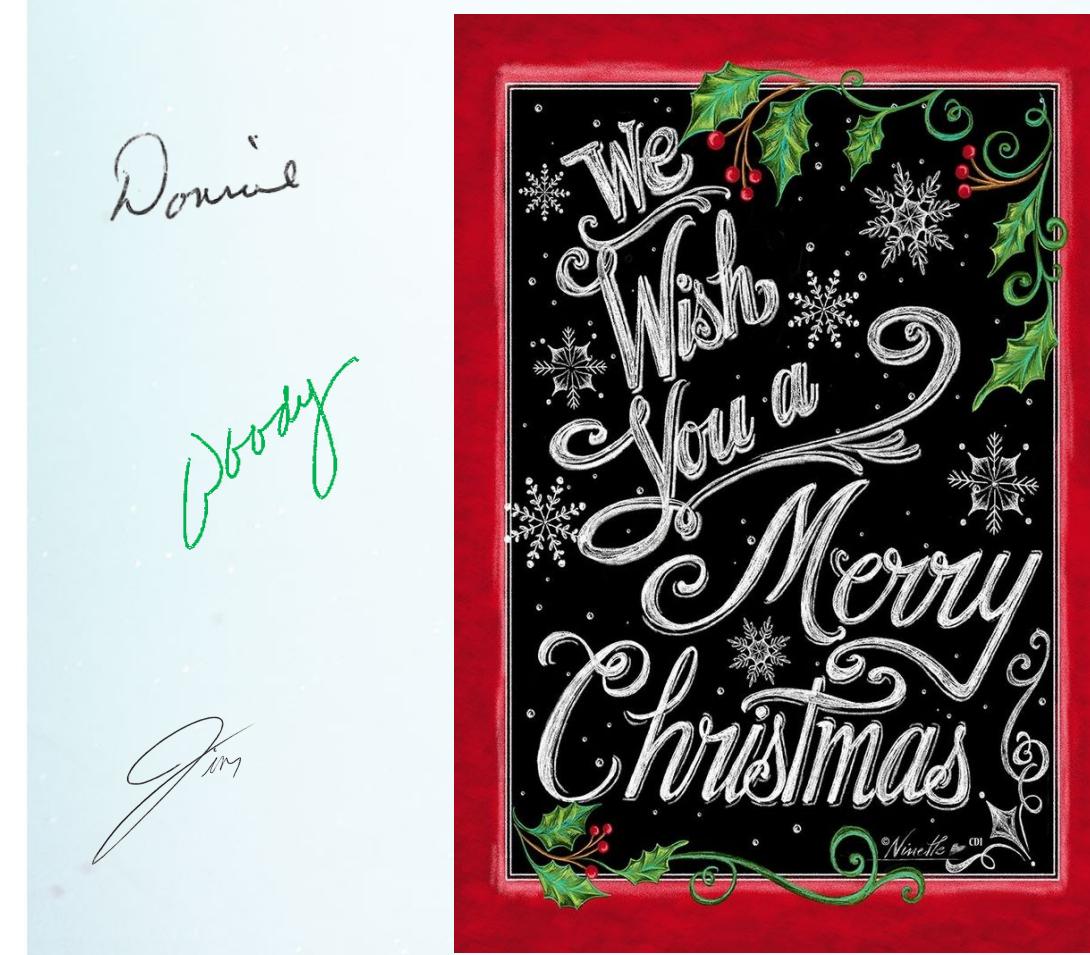

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left, and a circular graphic on the right containing a starburst pattern with the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbjaspertx.com". Below the sketch is the church's address and phone number: "First Baptist, Jasper 314 N. Main St. Jasper, TX 75951 (409)384-2527".

LIVE

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

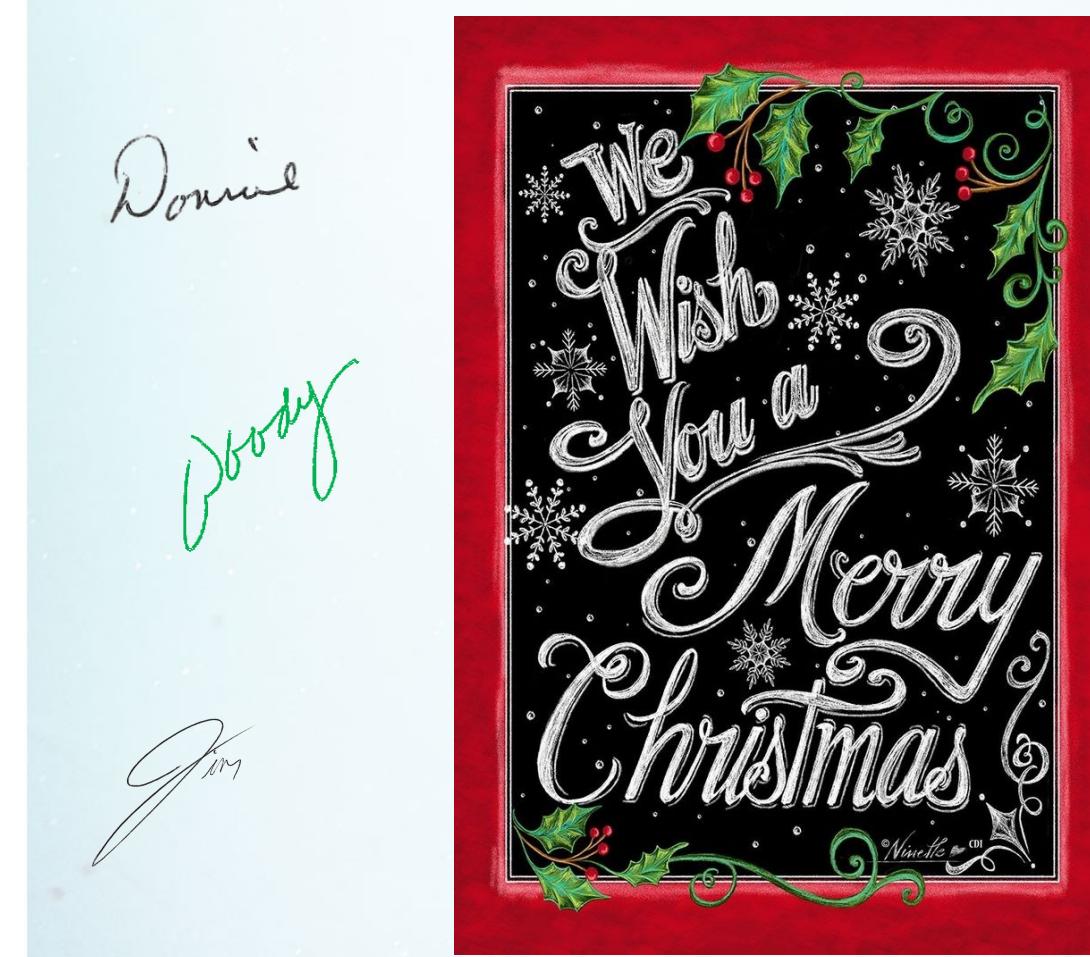

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

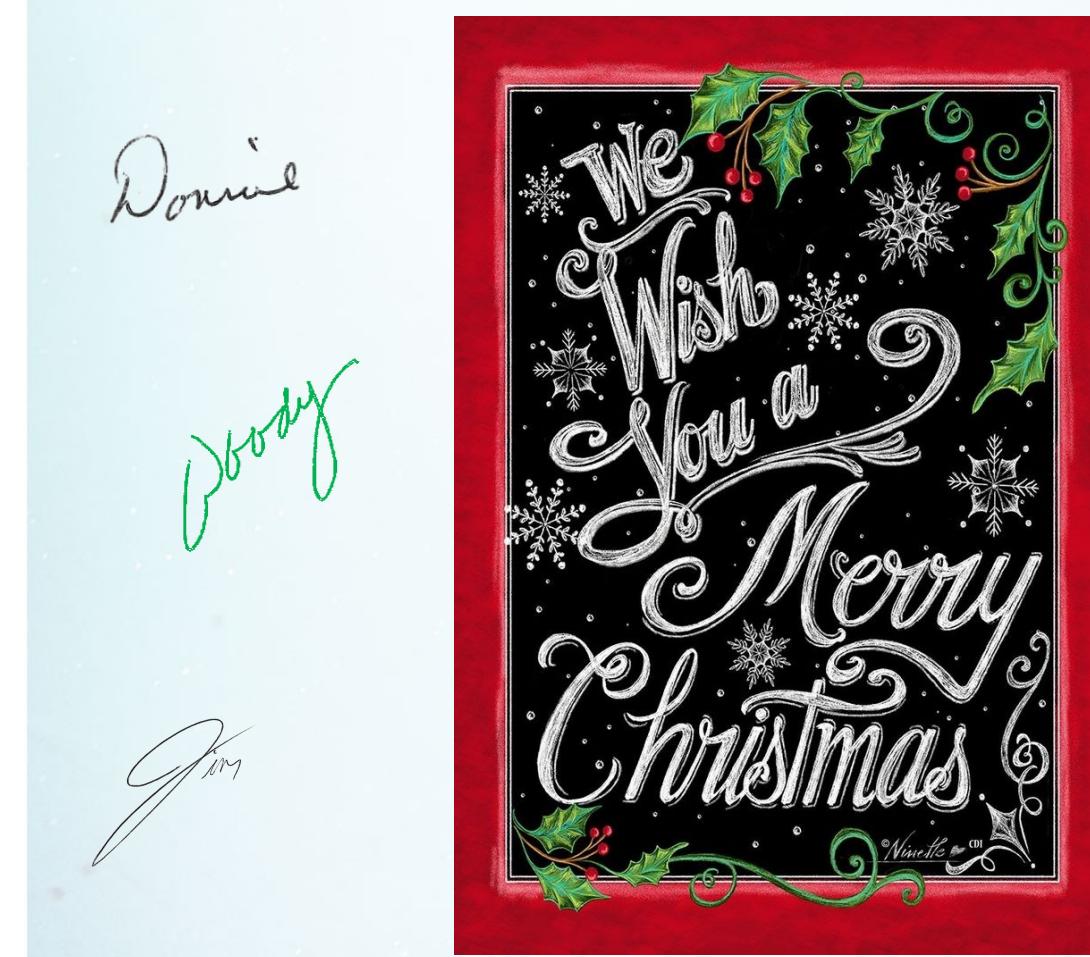

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

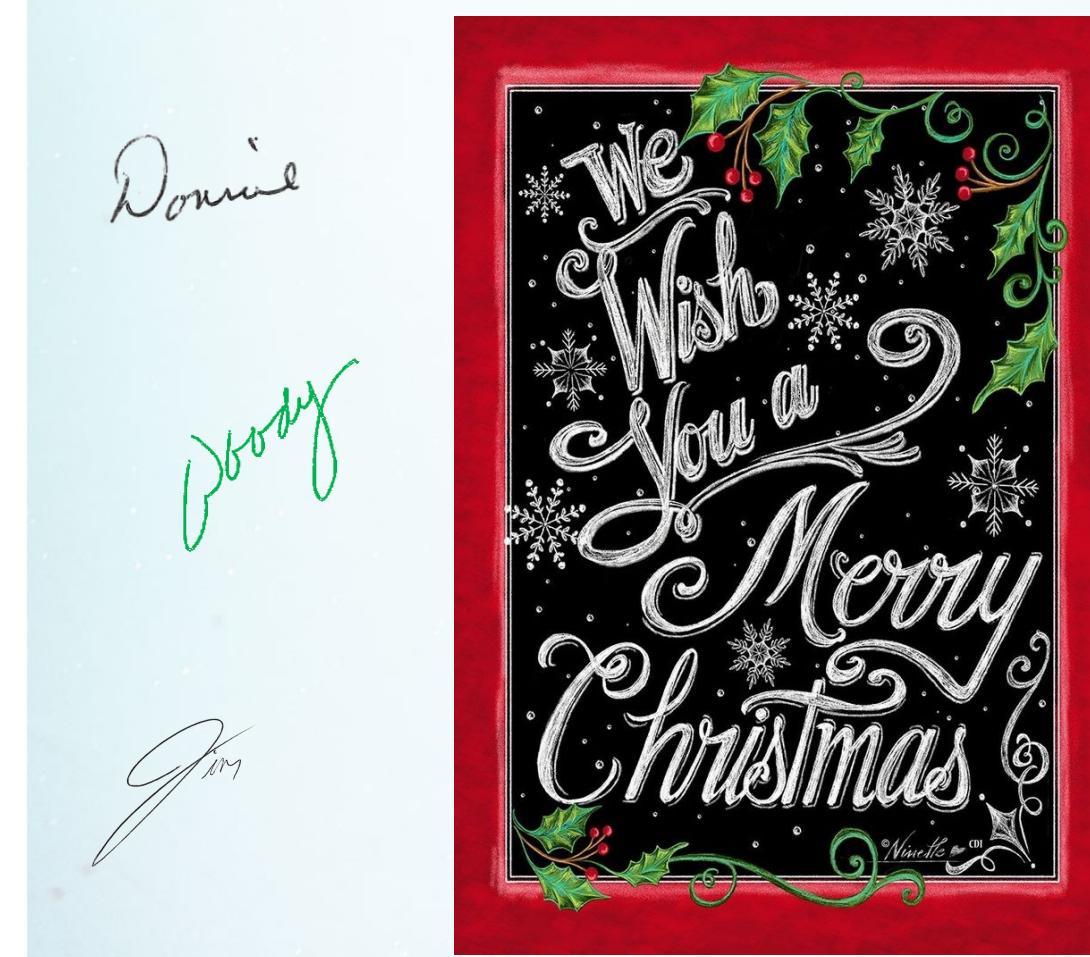

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left, and a circular graphic on the right containing a starburst pattern with the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbjaspertx.com". Below the sketch is the church's address and phone number: "First Baptist, Jasper 314 N. Main St. Jasper, TX 75951 (409)384-2527".

LIVE

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless
The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless
The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a "YouTube" button, a "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com, and a "Facebook LIVE" button.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper. It features a black and white sketch of a church building with a steeple on the left. To the right, there is a circular graphic with a starburst pattern containing the text "We're on the web" and the URL "www.fbjaspertx.com". Below this is a Facebook "LIVE" video camera icon. The entire logo is enclosed in a dark blue rectangular border.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

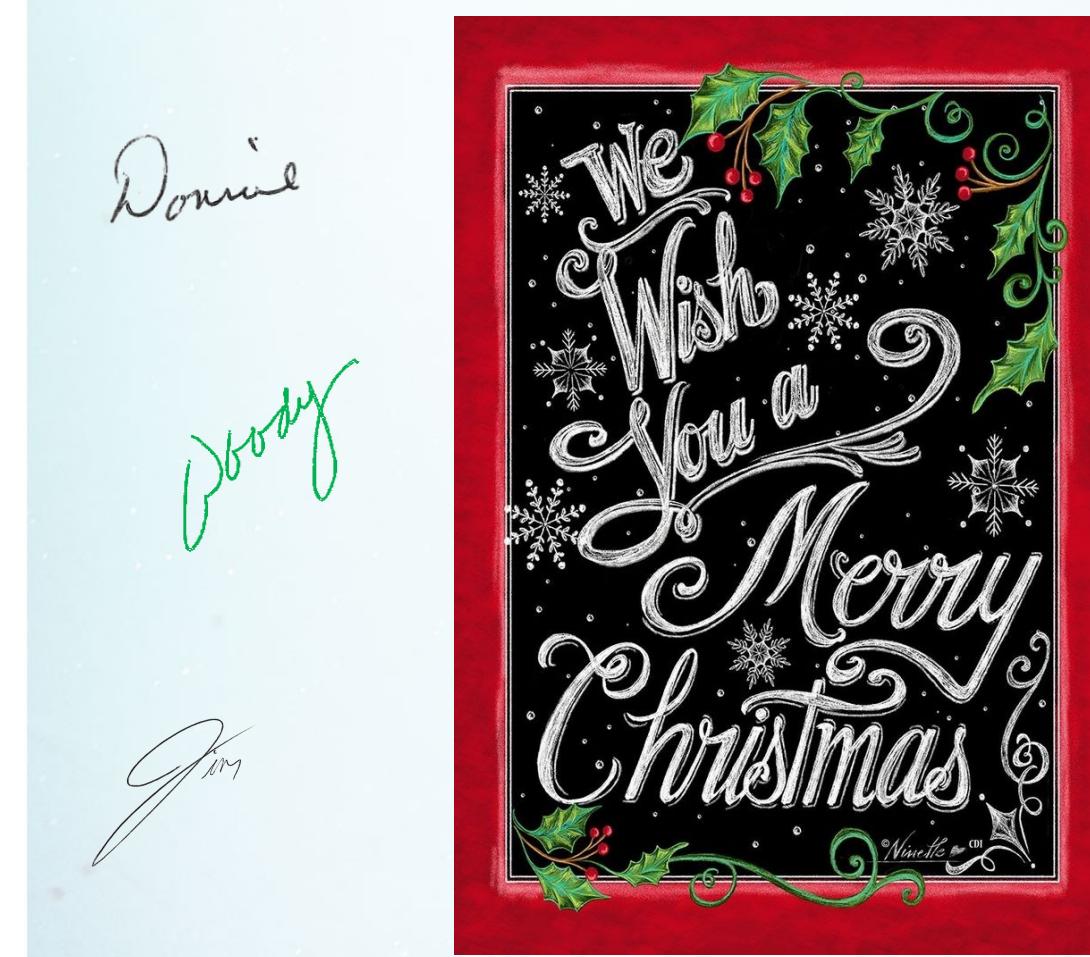

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

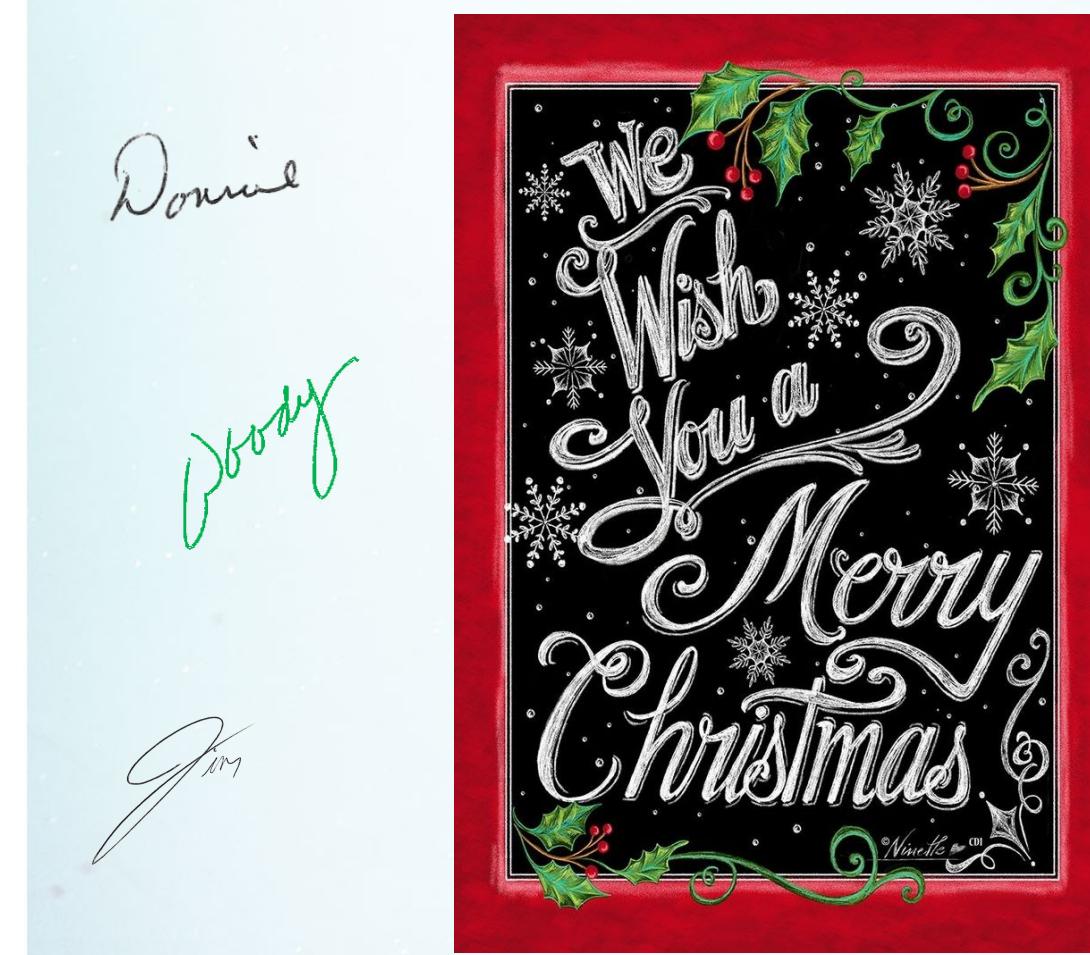

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

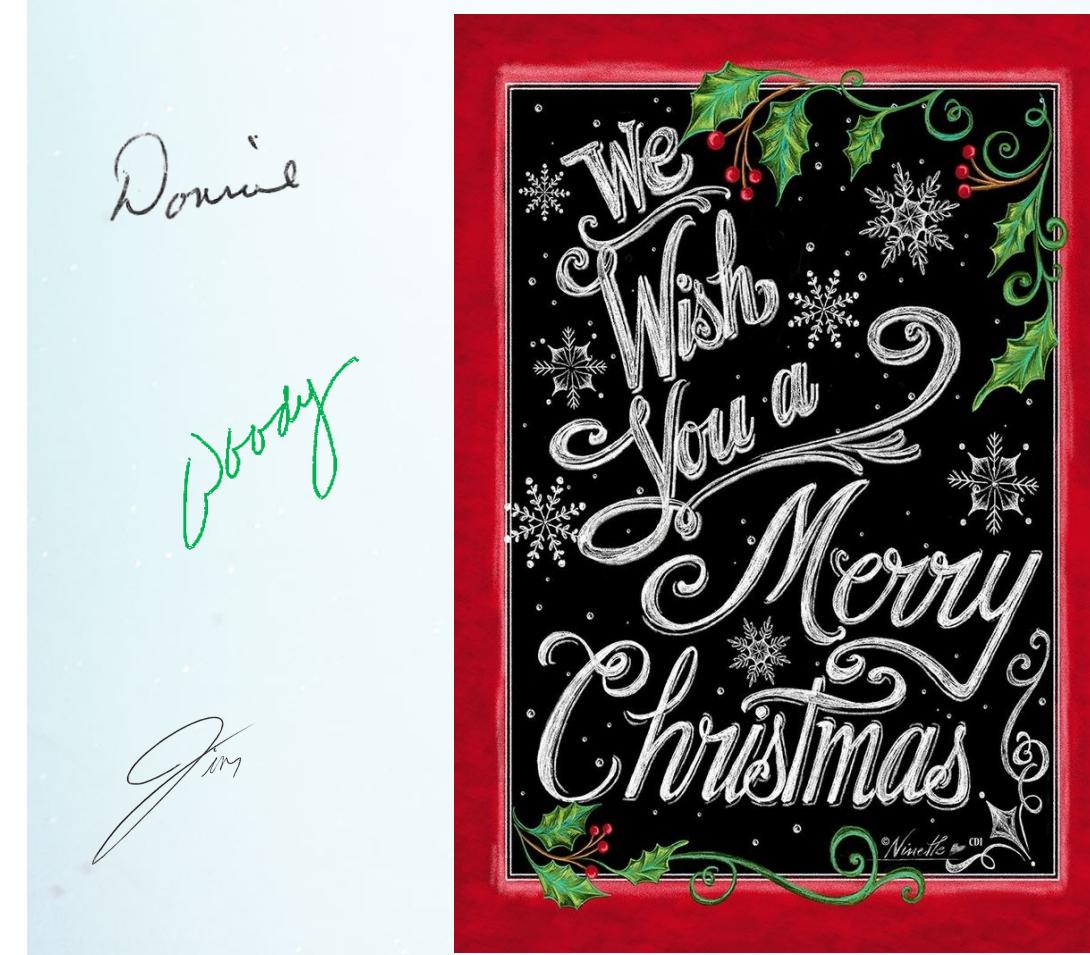

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

We're on the web
www.fbcbaptistx.com

LIVE

YouTube

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

*Jesus didn't come
just to die for us.
He came to live with us.*

VIDEO-BASED
8-SESSION BIBLE STUDY

Matchless

The Life and Love of Jesus

angie smith

LifeWay

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

The church office will be closed
December 25th through January 3rd.

The office will be open from 10am to
12pm on Thursday, December 31st.
Yearend contributions may be given
during this time. Also, remember we have
online giving available on our website
and a drop box in the door
of the church office.

Steve McGraw	Dec 24
Carole Jenks	Dec 25
Jordan Blair	Dec 26
Colt McBride	Dec 27
Jim Blankenship	Dec 29
Carroll Miller	Dec 29
Vanita McMillon	Dec 30
Irma Wiltshire	Dec 30
Ollie Brookfield	Dec 31
Anna McKnight	Jan 03
Colt Webb	Jan 03
Ross Gill	Jan 06
Michelle Webb	Jan 08
Betty McLemore	Jan 09
Rodney Herrington	Jan 10

First Baptist, Jasper...	384-2527
Donnie Wiltshire, Interim Pastor...	384-2527
Woody Wade, Minister of Music and Senior Adults...	382-5575
Jim Slaton, Minister of Youth and Education...	382-5425
Kim Gill, Church Secretary...	384-2527
Beth Penney, Financial Secretary...	384-2527
Christian School...	384-7033

The Compass (UPS #071350) is published twice a month.
Periodical Postage paid at Jasper, Texas 75951

A logo for First Baptist Jasper featuring a sketch of a church building, a YouTube icon, a Facebook LIVE icon, and a circular "We're on the web" button with the URL www.fbjaspertx.com.

First Baptist, Jasper
314 N. Main St.
Jasper, TX 75951
(409)384-2527
fbcj@fbcjaspertx.com

No Evening Activities Wednesday, December 23rd.
This year's Christmas Eve service will be available online only.
Please join us on Facebook at 5:00p.m. on Thursday, December 24th.

Dear Church Family,

What can we say about last Sunday? It was one of the best days ever. Sunday is always good because along with a couple other billion believers in the world we gather to worship the true and living God. Sunday was also extraordinary because our choir led us in a terrific morning of worship. "When We Needed a King" blessed us all. The choir exercised their spiritual gifts and Brother Woody led us with his. I enjoyed the musicality as well as the words – how about these: "He left heaven's throne... now the cradle is His throne... let us kneel before the throne." Did it make you want to join the choir? Well, in due time you will have opportunity. You already have the opportunity to kneel before God's throne!

What else can I say about Sunday? Well . . . when Irma and I moved back home, we had no plans other than to build a house and to join a church. But it seems that God had different plans. Your gracious vote has indicated that you feel that God wants us to walk this faith path together for a season and we agree. We are both excited to love you, to serve the Lord side by side with you, and to see God work among us to transform lives. There will be a lot that God calls us to do. But I am confident that all He requires from us He will supply for us; and I am equally confident that when we are weak, He will be strong.

I will start to work as your pastor on January first but my first day in the office will be January 4. I have a lot to learn so be patient with me as I come to understand our church rhythms and customs. Give me time to learn all your names (if you see me at Lowes remember I am seeing you out of place and might not recognize you – come grab me and speak to me). I intend to know you all; to know your families and your stories and your spiritual journeys. I can't wait. What a joy this is going to be.

I will see you Sunday – either on FaceBook or in person at our gathering place on the corner of Milam and Main!

Brother Donnie

A Note from Bro. Woody

*For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost.
--Luke 19:10--*

Sometimes I get frustrated about how we Christians treat the Bible around Christmastime. Think about it: many of us know the words of the Christmas story so well that we don't actually have to go look them up in Scripture. We have conditioned ourselves to think about only certain verses of the Bible as being the "Christmas" ones—the verses about Jesus being born and the promises of His coming as a baby. But one of the things I love about the gospel is that the promise of Christmas isn't limited to a handful of passages. It is all over the Bible, waiting for us to see it. It's in Isaiah's promise of salvation for God's people that God would answer "in a time of favor" and help "in the day of salvation." The fulfillment of this promise began the day Jesus was conceived by the Holy Spirit, through Mary's pregnancy, and goes beyond Jesus's birth. Whenever He ate with "tax collectors and sinners" and proclaimed good news to the poor, freedom for the captives, and healing and sight to the blind, He was doing what He was born to do. But one verse that I find absolutely life-giving at Christmastime is this: "For the Son of Man has come to seek and save the lost." This is, in so many ways, the heart of the matter, the reason why Christmas is even a thing. God sent Jesus into the world to seek and save the lost—people like you and me. People who were blind and trapped in captivity to sin. He came for people who were, from a spiritual perspective, about as bad as bad can be, even if we looked good on the outside—people so blind that we didn't even know we were blind! And yet Jesus came to seek us and save us. He came to rescue us from sin and from ourselves. And Christmas is the start of that, which means Christmas should be celebrated as more than our Savior's birth. It's also a time to look forward to what is yet to come—the day when Jesus returns to make all things new and put an end to sin forevermore.

*No ear may hear His coming, but in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him still,
the dear Christ enters in.*

You are loved,
Bro. Woody

A PAGE FROM JIM'S JOURNAL

Psalm 145:9 says, "The Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." The fact that the Lord is good is a wonderful Truth to reflect on. This is the time of year we recognize that God sent his son Jesus to become like us, that we may become more like Him and dwell in His presence. I hope we all recognize our great need for the Savior of the world.

I had the privilege of driving to Dallas this past Saturday to watch my Aunt and Uncle get baptized. They both just turned 70 a few months back and around that time had started attending a church plant in Argyle. My Uncle David had grown up in church and believed the stories he was told. But he always carried the weight of his sin and shame on his own shoulders. He never fully, in his heart, trusted in Jesus to remove his guilt and shame. As a result, he has lived most of his life trying to work his way to salvation.

Having spent most of his life avoiding a church that practices believers baptism, he was drawn to this church plant because they needed a guitar player and he loves to play. After a few weeks of hearing the gospel he accepted Jesus and the forgiveness that came. He is experiencing the freedom of Christ for the first time and it has invigorated him. I praise God for how good He is. He desires salvation for all creation. I reflect over and over again in my own life, "God how can you love me this much?" I have had my share of failures, works based attempts at favor, and shortcomings. But God still shows his favor and mercy. I am full of life because He is good and merciful.

Thank you Jesus for sustaining us and giving what we needed in the year 2020. As we jump into the next year I pray we rest in the fact that the Lord is good and His mercies are over all His works.

Join us for this 8-session study!
BY ANGIE SMITH

We live in a world where there's a lot of confusion about Jesus. Too often people want to shape Him and His message to fit their personal needs or agendas. So how can we know the truth?

Join Seamless author Angie Smith in this 8-session search for truth as she unfolds the story of our matchless Savior—His mission, miracles, and message. Whether you've walked with Him for years or are meeting Him for the first time, this study will deepen your understanding of Jesus through biblical, historical, and cultural insight and help you see Him less as an iconic figure and more as an intimate friend.

Ladies Bible Study

Begins Wednesday, January 13th at 6:00 p.m.
in the Computer Lab
Study Guides are $10 each
LifeWay | Women

This Christmas has been a lot different for the Christian School, but we were still able to spread some Christmas cheer to the residents of Rayburn Rehab with a parade of Carols and lots of smiles.

